Senate Approval Is Expected Of Another 20-Billion Fund

House Also Expected to Grant Added Powers to Preparedness Program—Money to Be Used for Planes, Tanks, Ships, Bombs, Men

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—Without debate, the Senate gave approval today for the armed forces to carry out $1,600,000,000 of defense construction—some of it so secret that even the legislators were not told its nature.

The Senate voice vote sent the legislation on to President Truman. The House passed it yesterday.

Immediately after the vote, Senator Russell (D.-Ga.), acting chairman of the armed services committee, asked the Senate to consider a big bill providing $20,000,000,000 of new defense funds.

Action Is Slated

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—Speedy approval of another $20,000,000,000 in emergency defense funds was expected in the Senate today.

Most of the funds will go for more airplanes, tanks, ships, atomic bombs and manpower in the fighting forces—all asked by President Truman since the Chinese Communists surged into Korea.

The House, meanwhile, was expected to override Republican opposition today and vote Mr. Truman the additional powers he wants to speed the preparedness program. G.O.P. objections put a brake on this legislation in the Senate.

In a home-for-Christmas drive, the House passed yesterday and sent to the Senate two other measures on the President's "must" list:

1—A bill setting up a nationwide civil defense system to deal with a possible atomic attack. This program is expected to cost $3,100,000,000 in federal and state funds over the next three years.

2—A $1,690,000,000 military public works authorization, much of it for top-secret purposes.

Senator McKellar (D.-Tenn.), veteran chairman of the appropriations committee, pushed the $20,000,000,000 emergency defense bill through the committee with wartime speed yesterday. He expected to repeat the performance on the Senate floor today.

The bill is $2,000,000,000 larger than similar legislation already approved by the House.

Boost Is $1,834,911,000

Largest boost was $1,834,911,000 for the stockpiling of strategic and critical materials such as rubber, tin, numerous metals and other materials and commodities in short supply during the last war.

The House voted $640,000,000

B.P.W. Proposal Is $414,123 for Its 1951 Budget

Increase to Cover Living Costs Favored, but Not Included in Request

A 1951 budget of $414,123 was adopted yesterday by the Board of Public Works which went on record as favoring a $200 bonus for its employes.

The budget is $19,375 more than the $394,754 adopted for 1950.

The board moved for the bonus in a long executive session following a bid by George E. Yerry, Jr., business agent for City Employes Union 316 for increases of 10 cents an hour for department employes who are on an hourly basis, and $240 for salaried employes.

In General Budget

The budget adopted yesterday, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk said, includes no provision for pay boosts or bonuses because the item of proposed bonuses for all city employes will be entered separately in the general budget. The mayor has recommended a "five per cent bonus across the board."

Yerry stressed that "At no time has any city administration abided by the prevailing wage law," and declared that unless there is an adequate wage adjustment "we would be compelled to abide by it."

The city no longer can use the two per cent bonded debt limit argument against requests for pay boosts, Yerry said, "because what we are asking for would not put us over the two per cent limit."

Lots of statistics were at hand, he continued, to prove the need for salary increases, but statistics in such arguments, he stressed, are used by both sides to prove a point, "and statistics do not help buy coal and bread. I ask you to give this request human consideration and forget the statistics."

Yerry said, "I feel and can appreciate the mayor's position in making up the city budget, but I also feel that this request is one of human understanding."

The $240 allowed to county employes, he said, became effective Dec. 16, and he stressed the point that while carpenters in the city

R.F.C. Directors May Yield to One

White House Reviews Plan to Nominate Single Boss

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—The five directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation today faced the possibility of seeing their jobs abolished during the next session of Congress.

The White House reportedly is studying a plan to replace the five $15,000-a-year directors with a single administrator.

President Truman nominated the present directors for the huge lending agency during the last session of Congress. No action was taken on confirmation so they now are serving under a recess appointment.

Two factors—concern with defense matters, and the critical attitude of some lawmakers towards the appointments—make it a virtual certainty that the Senate will not confirm the five during the current short session.

This means that if Mr. Truman wants to continue the present R.F.C. setup he will have to resubmit the names to the new Congress. Lawmakers familiar with R.F.C. affairs are hoping that he won't.

Would Like Plan

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark), chairman of a Senate banking subcommittee which has been sharply critical of R.F.C. lending policies, told a reporter he would like to see Mr. Truman send up a reorganization plan to place the agency under a single head.

Senator Douglas (D-Ill), a subcommittee member, in a separate statement,

Predicted both made this known to Mr. Truman at a White House meeting last week during which the President learned that

Smith, Deputies Return Guralnick For Trial in Ulster

Faces Assault Charge for Stabbing Woman; Broke Jail Here in 1948

Morris Guralnick, 35, is expected to arrive within a day or two back at the Ulster county jail from which he escaped more than two years ago.

Guralnick, also known as "Moe Gold," left Madison, Wisconsin, this morning in custody of a U. S. marshal, accompanied by Sheriff George C. Smith of Ulster county and two men from his department.

The party has reservations on the Twentieth Century Limited out of Chicago at 5 p. m. today, scheduled to arrive in New York at 9:20 a. m. Friday.

Guralnick, who refused to sign a waiver of extradition to be returned to Ulster county to face three assault charges, is being transferred to U. S. Southern District in New York under federal process to face a charge as fugitive from justice, according to information telephoned by Sheriff Smith to District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn this morning.

Will Be Arraigned

On arrival in New York, Guralnick will be arraigned on the federal charge before a U. S. commissioner. Under usual procedure in similar cases, the federal charge will be dismissed and Guralnick will be turned over to Sheriff Smith to be returned to Ulster county to face the local charges.

Guralnick faces an assault charge for the alleged stabbing of a Kingston woman in a Marlborough tavern. He was indicted by an Ulster county grand jury on that count, and while awaiting trial broke jail on July 11, 1948. As a result of the jail break, the grand jury indicted him on two additional assault charges in connection with an alleged attack upon two prison guards.

Brehm Denies Guilt on Counts

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—Rep. Brehm (R.-Ohio) pleaded innocent today to seven counts of receiving illegal campaign contributions.

Brehm was arraigned before Federal Judge Edward A. Tamm, who set March 12 as the date for trial.

The Ohio congressman was released in $1,000 bond.

His attorney, James F. Reilly, of Washington asked that he be allowed until Jan. 8 to file motions. Assistant U. S. Attorney Raymond Baker agreed and it was so ordered by the court.

Brehm was accompanied to District Court by his wife and son.

Germany's Chiefs See Big Chance

'Full Equality' Demand Basis for 'Trading' With Allies, or No Rearmament

Cite Three Points

No Restrictions, End of Occupation Terms Included

Bonn, Germany, Dec. 21 (AP)—The western allies today embark on the laborious task of coaxing troops from a West Germany united in demanding "full equality" with the west or no rearmament.

Cognizant of a golden opportunity for diplomatic horsetrading, the Germans begin talks with the three allied high commissioners determined to wring sizable concessions for any participation in the international defense force headed by Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

The North Atlantic Pact nations—which do not include West Germany—decided at their Brussels meeting Monday that 150,000 German soldiers were wanted for the European army they plan to raise to 1,000,000 men in two years.

But West German political leaders and newspapers have served notice they will have none of it unless:

1. Their nation is accepted as an equal partner by its one-time conquerors.

2. German troop units are not significantly restricted in size or composition of command staffs unless such restrictions apply to all member nations.

3. West Germany's status as an occupied enemy nation is scrapped and the republic given full political independence.

To Demand End of Controls

An authoritative German source said today West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer would demand the sweeping away of occupation controls on West Germany. He would seek, instead what he calls a "security treaty" between the federal republic and the western occupying powers, the nearest thing possible under present circumstances to a peace treaty.

The conference this afternoon also will work out the procedure for the negotiations for Bonn's acceptance of the Atlantic Pact proposals. German intentions to drive a hard bargain indicated the talks would be lengthy.

Three Are Delegated

Entrusted with the job of arguing the Bonn government into joining up are the high commissioners of the occupying powers, John J. McCloy of the United States, Sir Ivone Kirkpattick of Britain and Andre Francois-Poncet of France.

They were authorized by the Big Three western foreign ministers to "explore the problem" of German defense contribution "as well as any changes in the present occupation arrangements which might logically attend" it.

"We will sum up the result of these exchanges and submit them, in due course, to our governments," the French high commissioner explained.

France, a key member of the continental Atlantic Pact, is still almost as fearful of a revival of German militarism as she is of the Soviet Union. The French especially want to avoid formation of a new German general staff and the use of German units exceeding brigade strength of 5,000 to 8,000 men.

A big question attending the negotiations is one over which the conferees have no control—the Russian reaction.

The Soviet Union has warned she would not tolerate a revival of German militarism.

Judge Gives Chance to Young Man to Change Mind in 60 Days

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Alfred Bergdoll, son of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, notorious draft dodger of World War I, was sentenced today to five years in prison for dodging the 1950 draft.

The penalty was the maximum for violating the Selective Service Act.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan told the 23-year-old defendant that if he changed his mind within the next 60 days, and desired "to do your duty" his case would be reconsidered.

Born in Germany

Young Bergdoll, born in Germany after his father exiled himself from the United States, had been employed as a clerk in New York city and was living apart from his father.

The elder Bergdoll served a prison term on draft dodging charges after returning from exile, and now lives on a farm at Charles City, Va.

Young Bergdoll, prior to his arrest Dec. 1, sent a letter to his local selective service board announcing he had no intention of being inducted.

Asked whether he had anything to say just before sentence was imposed, the slim, bespectacled youth replied:

"I have nothing additional to say."

Mayor Announces Hearing on Budget

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk said today he will hold a public hearing on the 1951 city budget tentatively set at $1,417,960.23 on Dec. 28 at 7 p. m. in the Common Council chamber, city hall.

Copies of the budget, the mayor said, will be available at the mayor's office at 3 p. m. tomorrow. The tentative budget, still subject to study and revision, is $374,518.23 above that of the 1950 adopted budget.

Sniper Shoots Two More in Philly

Police Can't Link Cases to Seven Previous Shootings

Philadelphia, Dec. 21 (AP)—Two more Philadelphians have been felled by mystery bullets but police say they are not sure either ambush can be charged to the sniper sought for seven previous shootings.

Sixteen-year-old George Haller, Jr., was nicked by an unknown assailant last night while he was walking on a street in the Juniata Park section, some four miles from where Mrs. Claire Cohen, a young housewife, was slain Saturday night.

Earlier yesterday a 54-year-old man was shot in South Philadelphia by another bullet fired out of the dark by an unseen marksman. The victim of this pre-dawn shooting was Richard C. Lavery, Republican division committeeman and job printer. Police are inclined to discount this shooting as being the work of the "mad sniper" who struck down Mrs. Cohen in Oak Lane

Detectives William Schrader and Harry Fox said Haller might have been shot either by the elusive sniper or by someone aiming at rats at the Yellowjacket Speedway, two blocks from where the shooting occurred. The speedway, used for midget auto racing, is closed for the winter.

Check Mummers' Feud

Haller, a pupil at Benjamin Franklin High School was hit in the shoulder by a bullet from a .22 caliber rifle, akin to the gun used against Mrs. Cohen. He was not injured seriously.

Lavery was hit by a .32 caliber bullet fired into his back. His condition is critical. He was struck down near the doorway of a club where he had just attended a meeting.

Detective Lieut. Charles Brown said he was investigating the possibility Lavery was not the intended target. He said the gunman might have aimed at James J. Durning, prominent among the city's New Year's paraders, the

Wilson Takes Up His Duties, Picks Clay and Weinberg

Mobilization Director Is Given Oath in Truman Presence; Two Get No Pay

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—Charles E. Wilson took office today as director of defense mobilization and immediately appointed General Lucius Clay and banker Sidney Weinberg as his assistants.

Wilson, former president of General Electric, told reporters of the two appointments at the White House after taking the oath of office in President Truman's presence.

Wilson said Clay and Weinberg will serve without compensation.

Clay, former U. S. commander at Berlin, is relinquishing his duties as chairman of the board of the Continental Can Co.

Weinberg is senior partner of Goldman, Sachs and Company, New York investment banking firm. He was a vice-chairman of the War Production Board in World War 2.

Vinson Gives Oath

The oath was administered to Wilson by Chief Justice Vinson.

W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board, some of whose duties Wilson is taking over in the mobilization job, stepped up after the ceremony smiling and said, "let me be the first to congratulate you."

Wilson told reporters his immediate plans are to continue just what he is doing now—that is, surveying the job that must be done, and getting "just as many facts as I can."

Wilson took the oath of office well under 24 hours after the Senate rushed through confirmation of his appointment.

Already, in another step toward cushioning the shock of the defense buildup on the nation's econ-

Reds Move To Regroup Their Units

Say Targets Scarce

British Fliers Report Night Traffic, but None in Day

Tokyo, Dec. 21 (AP)—The Hungnam beachhead lay quiet today after allied land-sea-air barracks mowed down and rolled back the Reds' most menacing attack on the perimeter.

Frozen bodies of Chinese and white-robed Korean Reds littered the snow-crusted east flank of the United Nations defense ring where the attack was made.

Communist survivors apparently were numbed to a standstill by the fury of 'round-the-clock bombardment Wednesday by allied warships, planes and land artillery.

Field dispatches reported the shattered survivors were thrown back from the point of gravest peril to the allied forces holding their last sliver of northeast Korea around Hungnam on the Sea of Japan shore.

Red Losses Are Heavy

General MacArthur's headquarters reported the Chinese had suffered heavy losses—at a ratio of 10 to 1—during the darkest days of the allied retreat from most of North Korea, Nov. 27 to Dec. 12.

The United Nations commander reported U.N. casualties in the Nov. 27-Dec. 12 period at 12,325, not including those suffered by Republic of Korea (ROK) forces. All of the allied killed, wounded and missing during the two-week period were American except 1,011 from other U.N. forces.

Before that period, the Defense Department in Washington had listed American casualties in Korea at 31,028 through Nov. 24, including 5,307 dead.

The Chinese have been around the Hungnam beachhead in great force for days, but it was apparent that the battling retreat of U. S. Marines and 10th Corps Doughboys farther north had badly crippled an estimated 10 Red divisions.

Progress Is Slow

Red efforts to reorganize their force were progressing slowly—too slowly to hamper the planned withdrawal of American forces on the Hungnam beach. U. S. losses there are reported extremely small considering the action involved.

AP Correspondents Tom Lambert and Stan Swinton, in the beachhead, reported enemy inactivity on the Hungnam perimeter had field commanders worried, although they said they were certain that steady pounding had hurt the Reds badly.

Warships continued to hammer Communist troop concentrations north of the beachhead.

Correspondent Lambert reported the Communists had replied only with mortar attacks on the east flank.

Villages Are Fired

Swinton reported the air and artillery attacks fired five small villages the Communists had been using for assembly areas.

The Far East air forces reported continuing attacks on Communist forces throughout the U. S. Eighth Army area in the northwest.

Hoover Suggests Armament To Make Western 'Gibraltar'

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover urged the nation last night to concentrate on fortifying the Western Hemisphere as a "Gibraltar."

Recalled on his fellow-countrymen to "arm to the teeth" to hold the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, with the island outposts of Britain, Japan, Formosa and the Philippines.

Mr. Hoover, speaking on radio and television, said it would be "sheer folly" to engage in land war with Communist hordes in Asia or the continent of Europe.

He urged the United States to "arm our air and naval forces to the teeth" to defend the frontiers by land sea.

Mr. Hoover said the Communists could never break through American sea and air power to invade the Western Hemisphere. "They can no more reach Washington in force than we can reach Moscow," he declared.

At another point, he expressed the opinion that the atomic bomb is "a far less dominant weapon than it was once thought to be."

The only living ex-president, making one of the most important addresses of his long public career, said "it is clear that the United Nations are defeated in Korea."

It would be "inviting another Korea," he declared, to send more troops or money to western European nations before they had armed themselves as a "sure dam against the Red flood."

Defense of western continental Europe rests primarily on the European nations themselves, the Te-

Chicago Probe Opens Big Investigation of Gambling

Chicago, Dec. 21 (AP)—U. S. Senate Crime Committee hearings in Chicago have touched off a "full scale" investigation of the city's multimillion dollar policy gambling racket.

The probe, started after witnesses told of the far-flung policy operations, already has landed in jail five of the alleged top gambling figures. All testified during the committee's three days of public hearings which closed last night.

A sixth witness, Ralph O'Hara, a former official of a racing news service, was under federal indictment for refusing to answer pertinent questions. Federal marshals hunted him after the grand jury bills, containing 17 counts, were returned.

Although many witnesses summoned were not called, Sen. Kefauver (D.-Tenn.), committee chairman, said testimony demonstrated that "interstate crime to a great degree centers in Chicago."

Among witnesses not called during the public hearings, which followed an earlier closed session here by the committee, were several former members of the old Capone gang.

Kefauver said search will be continued for them as well as for other missing big name gangsters. They have been missing from their usual haunts for several months in an attempt to escape being served with a committee summons.

The committee's next hearing will open Dec. 28 in Tampa, Fla. Kefauver said he hopes the committee will hold hearings in eight

Judge Gives Chance to Young Man to Change Mind in 60 Days

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Alfred Bergdoll, son of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, notorious draft dodger of World War I, was sentenced today to five years in prison for dodging the 1950 draft.

The penalty was the maximum for violating the Selective Service Act.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan told the 23-year-old defendant that if he changed his mind within the next 60 days, and desired "to do your duty" his case would be reconsidered.

Born in Germany

Young Bergdoll, born in Germany after his father exiled himself from the United States, had been employed as a clerk in New York city and was living apart from his father.

The elder Bergdoll served a prison term on draft dodging charges after returning from exile, and now lives on a farm at Charles City, Va.

Young Bergdoll, prior to his arrest Dec. 1, sent a letter to his local selective service board announcing he had no intention of being inducted.

Asked whether he had anything to say just before sentence was imposed, the slim, bespectacled youth replied:

"I have nothing additional to say."

Police Can't Link Cases to Seven Previous Shootings

Philadelphia, Dec. 21 (AP)—Two more Philadelphians have been felled by mystery bullets but police say they are not sure either ambush can be charged to the sniper sought for seven previous shootings.

Sixteen-year-old George Haller, Jr., was nicked by an unknown assailant last night while he was walking on a street in the Juniata Park section, some four miles from where Mrs. Claire Cohen, a young housewife, was slain Saturday night.

Earlier yesterday a 54-year-old man was shot in South Philadelphia by another bullet fired out of the dark by an unseen marksman. The victim of this pre-dawn shooting was Richard C. Lavery, Republican division committeeman and job printer. Police are inclined to discount this shooting as being the work of the "mad sniper" who struck down Mrs. Cohen in Oak Lane

Detectives William Schrader and Harry Fox said Haller might have been shot either by the elusive sniper or by someone aiming at rats at the Yellowjacket Speedway, two blocks from where the shooting occurred. The speedway, used for midget auto racing, is closed for the winter.

Check Mummers' Feud

Haller, a pupil at Benjamin Franklin High School was hit in the shoulder by a bullet from a .22 caliber rifle, akin to the gun used against Mrs. Cohen. He was not injured seriously.

Lavery was hit by a .32 caliber bullet fired into his back. His condition is critical. He was struck down near the doorway of a club where he had just attended a meeting.

Detective Lieut. Charles Brown said he was investigating the possibility Lavery was not the intended target. He said the gunman might have aimed at James J. Durning, prominent among the city's New Year's paraders, the

Wilson Takes Up His Duties, Picks Clay and Weinberg

Mobilization Director Is Given Oath in Truman Presence; Two Get No Pay

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—Charles E. Wilson took office today as director of defense mobilization and immediately appointed General Lucius Clay and banker Sidney Weinberg as his assistants.

Wilson, former president of General Electric, told reporters of the two appointments at the White House after taking the oath of office in President Truman's presence.

Wilson said Clay and Weinberg will serve without compensation.

Clay, former U. S. commander at Berlin, is relinquishing his duties as chairman of the board of the Continental Can Co.

Weinberg is senior partner of Goldman, Sachs and Company, New York investment banking firm. He was a vice-chairman of the War Production Board in World War 2.

Vinson Gives Oath

The oath was administered to Wilson by Chief Justice Vinson.

W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board, some of whose duties Wilson is taking over in the mobilization job, stepped up after the ceremony smiling and said, "let me be the first to congratulate you."

Wilson told reporters his immediate plans are to continue just what he is doing now—that is, surveying the job that must be done, and getting "just as many facts as I can."

Wilson took the oath of office well under 24 hours after the Senate rushed through confirmation of his appointment.

Already, in another step toward cushioning the shock of the defense buildup on the nation's econ-

Reds Move To Regroup Their Units

Say Targets Scarce

British Fliers Report Night Traffic, but None in Day

Tokyo, Dec. 21 (AP)—The Hungnam beachhead lay quiet today after allied land-sea-air barracks mowed down and rolled back the Reds' most menacing attack on the perimeter.

Frozen bodies of Chinese and white-robed Korean Reds littered the snow-crusted east flank of the United Nations defense ring where the attack was made.

Communist survivors apparently were numbed to a standstill by the fury of 'round-the-clock bombardment Wednesday by allied warships, planes and land artillery.

Field dispatches reported the shattered survivors were thrown back from the point of gravest peril to the allied forces holding their last sliver of northeast Korea around Hungnam on the Sea of Japan shore.

Red Losses Are Heavy

General MacArthur's headquarters reported the Chinese had suffered heavy losses—at a ratio of 10 to 1—during the darkest days of the allied retreat from most of North Korea, Nov. 27 to Dec. 12.

The United Nations commander reported U.N. casualties in the Nov. 27-Dec. 12 period at 12,325, not including those suffered by Republic of Korea (ROK) forces. All of the allied killed, wounded and missing during the two-week period were American except 1,011 from other U.N. forces.

Before that period, the Defense Department in Washington had listed American casualties in Korea at 31,028 through Nov. 24, including 5,307 dead.

The Chinese have been around the Hungnam beachhead in great force for days, but it was apparent that the battling retreat of U. S. Marines and 10th Corps Doughboys farther north had badly crippled an estimated 10 Red divisions.

Progress Is Slow

Red efforts to reorganize their force were progressing slowly—too slowly to hamper the planned withdrawal of American forces on the Hungnam beach. U. S. losses there are reported extremely small considering the action involved.

AP Correspondents Tom Lambert and Stan Swinton, in the beachhead, reported enemy inactivity on the Hungnam perimeter had field commanders worried, although they said they were certain that steady pounding had hurt the Reds badly.

Warships continued to hammer Communist troop concentrations north of the beachhead.

Correspondent Lambert reported the Communists had replied only with mortar attacks on the east flank.

Villages Are Fired

Swinton reported the air and artillery attacks fired five small villages the Communists had been using for assembly areas.

The Far East air forces reported continuing attacks on Communist forces throughout the U. S. Eighth Army area in the northwest.

R.F.C. Directors May Yield to One

White House Reviews Plan to Nominate Single Boss

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—The five directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation today faced the possibility of seeing their jobs abolished during the next session of Congress.

The White House reportedly is studying a plan to replace the five $15,000-a-year directors with a single administrator.

President Truman nominated the present directors for the huge lending agency during the last session of Congress. No action was taken on confirmation so they now are serving under a recess appointment.

Two factors—concern with defense matters, and the critical attitude of some lawmakers towards the appointments—make it a virtual certainty that the Senate will not confirm the five during the current short session.

This means that if Mr. Truman wants to continue the present R.F.C. setup he will have to resubmit the names to the new Congress. Lawmakers familiar with R.F.C. affairs are hoping that he won't.

Would Like Plan

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark), chairman of a Senate banking subcommittee which has been sharply critical of R.F.C. lending policies, told a reporter he would like to see Mr. Truman send up a reorganization plan to place the agency under a single head.

So did Senator Douglas (D-Ill), a subcommittee member, in a separate interview.

Presumably both made this known to Mr. Truman at a White House meeting last week during which the President learned that

Hoover Suggests Armament To Make Western 'Gibraltar'

New York, Dec. 31 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover urged the nation last night to concentrate on fortifying the Western Hemisphere as a "Gibraltar."

He called on his fellow-countrymen to "arm to the teeth" to hold the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, with the island outposts of Britain, Japan, Formosa and the Philippines.

Mr. Hoover, speaking on radio and television, said it would be "sheer folly" to engage in land war with Communist hordes in Asia or the continent of Europe.

He urged the United States to "arm our air and naval forces to the teeth" to defend the frontiers he laid out.

Mr. Hoover said the Communists could never break through American sea and air power to invade the Western Hemisphere. "They can no more reach Washington in force than we can reach Moscow," he declared.

At another point, he expressed the opinion that the atomic bomb is "a far less dominant weapon than it was once thought to be."

The only living ex-president, making one of the most important addresses of his long public career, said "It is clear that the United Nations are defeated in Korea."

It would be "inviting another Korea," he declared, to send more troops or money to western European nations before they had armed themselves as a "sure dam against the Red flood."

Defense of western continental Europe rests primarily on the European nations themselves, the 76-

Chicago Probe Opens Big Investigation of Gambling

Chicago, Dec. 21 (AP)—U. S. Senate Crime Committee hearings in Chicago have touched off a "full scale" investigation of the city's multimillion dollar policy gambling racket.

The probe, started after witnesses told of the far-flung policy operations, already has landed in jail five of the alleged top gambling figures. All testified during the committee's three days of public hearings which closed last night.

A sixth witness, Ralph O'Hara, a former official of a racing news service, was under federal indictment for refusing to answer pertinent questions. Federal marshals hunted him after the grand jury bills, containing 17 counts, were returned.

Although many witnesses summoned were not called, Sen. Kefauver (D.-Tenn.), committee chairman, said testimony demonstrated that "interstate crime to a great degree centers in Chicago."

Among witnesses not called during the public hearings, which followed an earlier closed session here by the committee, were several former members of the old Capone gang.

Kefauver said search will be continued for them as well as for other missing big name gangsters. They have been missing from their usual haunts for several months in an attempt to escape being served with a committee summons.

The committee's next hearing will open Dec. 28 in Tampa, Fla. Kefauver said he hopes the committee will hold hearings in eight

Candidates Slated In C.C. Election

Members of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce nominated 15 leading citizens as candidates for the office of director. A tie vote caused an extra name to be added. Bert Bishop, chairman of the election committee, reported today that the committee met Wednesday night and counted 160 nominating ballots. The following 15 names will appear on the election ballot to be mailed to all active members on January 2, from which seven are to be elected:

Bev. C. Anderson, Larry V. Bogert, Ralph M. Cooper, Edwin L. Davey, Irving L. Eyles, Floyd W. Flint, Harry Gold, Edward M. Huben, Maynard Mizel, Lawrence A. Quilty, Harry Rigby, Jr., Clarence S. Rowland, Elmer Rylance, George N. Shivery, Henry Singer.

Each member will be asked to vote for seven of the 14 nominees on the election ballot. The seven receiving the highest number of votes will be elected for a term of three years. The newly-elected directors will meet with the remaining 14 and elect officers for 1951 at the regular board meeting on January 16. The committee will count the election ballots on Wednesday, Jan. 10.

The election committee suggests that the type of business and sections of the city be kept in mind in making the final selections. A broad representative board of directors can best serve the interests of most members. The 14 directors remaining on the board as now constituted include, C. A. Baltz, Jr., Emil G. Boessneck, Pratt Boice, J. Ellis Briggs, James P. Byrne, Eugene B. Carey, Byron S. Chatham, Joseph Deegan, Bernard Feeney, R. W. Garraghan, Addison Jones, Lawrence J. MacAvery, Victor H. Roth and Robert E. Teetsel.

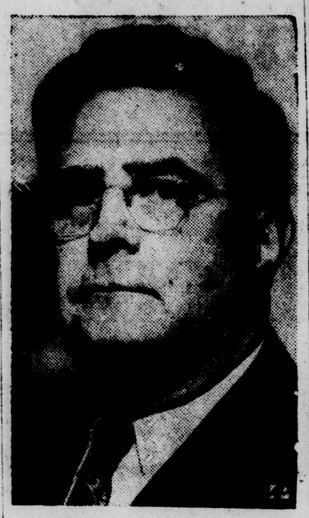
Indicted



Rep. Walter E. Brehm (R-Ohio) 58, was indicted in Washington, D. C., Dec. 20, by a federal grand jury on seven charges of illegally getting money from two of his office employes for use in his successful re-election campaign. Brehm, from Logan, Ohio, has been a member of the House since 1942.

Allied Barrages

troops. The report, he said, was wholly unconfirmed and doubted at headquarters because the Chinese Communists had no training in gas warfare and did not have gas masks.

British fliers from the carrier Theseus operating off the west coast reported a scarcity of targets along the main road and rail system connecting the North Korean capital of Pyongyang, Sariwon and Kumchon. They said there was an indication of night traffic along the snow-covered roads but no traffic was observed during the day.

Is Hardest Hit

A breakdown of allied casualties listed the U. S. Second Army Division as hardest hit with 4,131 casualties; next hardest hit was the U. S. First Marine Division with 2,891.

Other losses: U. S. Seventh Infantry Division, 2,097; U. S. First Cavalry Division, 443; U. S. Third Infantry Division, 650; U. S. 24th Division, 146; U. S. 25th Division, 1,606; other United Nations forces, 1,011.

MacArthur said Communist losses of 10 to one had noticeably slowed down the enemy operations.

MacArthur said the allied withdrawal from the northwest front after the Sinanju battle "was not dictated by battle losses or the acceptance of defeat."

He said the allied forces, four corps of 12 divisions, were outnumbered by nine Chinese corps of 27 divisions. Other huge Chinese Red forces were massed north of the Yalu river in Manchuria, he said.

"Under such conditions," MacArthur added, "the assumption of the defensive in a position of readiness and a tightening of frontages is an almost commonplace military maneuver."

Check Hit, Run Truck

Local and state police today sought to determine the owner of a truck reported to have struck Frank Jones of Hinsdale street, who, "while riding his bicycle on Albany avenue near Harding avenue last night, was struck and knocked off his bicycle." The boy suffered injuries of the back and a leg injury, the report said. A witness and a boy furnished descriptions of the truck, which went on without stopping, police said. Officers James Burns and Thomas McGrane investigated after a call to the state police at Lake Katrine was relayed to local headquarters at 7:18 p. m. Local detectives were also notified.

More Casualties

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—The Defense Department raised its total of announced Korean battle casualties to 36,421 today. This was a rise of 2,543 since its last report a week ago.

Rail Yardmen Get 23-Cent Boost

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—The White House today announced a three-year peace pact between the major railroads and four operating rail unions.

The agreement provides:

For 120,000 railroad yardmen—an immediate increase of 23 cents an hour, with another two cents on Jan. 1 and cost of living adjustments every three months beginning next April 1. The adjustments are to be made at the rate of one cent an hour for every rise or fall of one point in the government's consumers price index.

The 23-cent pay boost is retroactive to Oct. 1.

For about 180,000 road service workers—an immediate increase of five cents an hour, also retroactive to Oct. 1, and other five cents effective Jan. 1, plus the same cost of living arrangement.

The settlement was announced by Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman who said union leaders had agreed in principle after a 26-hour overnight conference to a moratorium on any further demands by the four unions.

The agreement probably will lead to quick restoration of the rail line operations to their owners. The army has been running the roads.

As drafted, the settlement represents a compromise between some of the union demands and what the railroads offered.

Shrinking U.N. Hungnam Beachhead

Broken and solid battle lines show how United Nations' beachhead at Hungnam in Northeast Korea has shrunk to its present size (sawtooth line). North Korean and Chinese Red assaults against the tiny area were held off by artillery and tank fire. Carrier-based planes let go with rockets and machine gun bullets into Communist positions only a few thousand yards from the beach.

She had been ill since Dec. 11. Her condition took a turn for the worse Dec. 18 when she had a stroke which left her partly paralyzed.

Mrs. Caraway was a member of the Federal Employes' Compensation Appeals Board at the time of her death.

She was a senator for slightly more than 13 years during the administration of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

TV 'Tickets' in Offing

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—You may have to buy a ticket to see special shows on your own television set if a "coded" image process demonstrated last night ever comes into general use. Known as Skiatron Subscriber Vision, the method produces a scrambled picture that straightens itself out only if you have bought a coded card which fits into a machine attached to your television set. It has been suggested as a way to provide first-run movies, Broadway plays, sports and other events that an advertiser could not afford to offer free to all set owners. Under present regulations of the Federal Communications Commission, however, broadcast channels may not be used for a fee service.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—A sudden burst of activity in utilities today enlivened an otherwise sagging stock market.

This group burst into life with gains of a few cents to more than a dollar a share. Buying was based on the theory that utilities had not participated in the spectacular rise of the last few days and therefore were due for an advance.

Gold mining shares generally were higher by as much as a dollar or a little more, but they were not particularly active on the advance.

Radio-Television issues were unchanged to a few cents higher. Elsewhere the trend was down in steels, motors, rails, oils, aircraft, and air lines.

Paramount Pictures board of directors authorized a bid placed on the stock exchange on Dec. 22 to buy Paramount Common at $21.50 a share in order to acquire 500,000 shares. The stock added more than a point and stood around the bid price.

Today's spotty set-back comes after four days of rising markets following President Truman's mobilization speech last Friday.

Higher today were Standard Gas & Electric, American Telephone, Public Service Gas & Electric, Union Gas, Aluminum Ltd., Anderson Clayton, Goodrich, Distillers Corp.-Seagrams, Admiral Corp., Dome Mines, Homestake Mining, and Allied Chemical.

Lower were U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, General Motors, Chrysleh, Boeing, Columbia Broadcasting "A", Anaconda Copper, Dow Chemical, Baltimore & Ohio, Northern Pacific, Standard Oil (N. J.), United Aid Lines, Twentieth Century-Fox, and Johns-Manville.

Curb stocks were thoroughly mixed. On the upside were Kaiser-Frazer, Alaska Airline, Electric Bond & Share, Ford Motor of Canada "A", Glen Alden Coal, and Hartford Rayon. Lower were American Republics, Cities Service, Dominion Steel, Humble Oil, Louisiana Land, and Raytheon Mfg.

Reports indicated Kaiser-Frazer and the U. S. Air Force are negotiating to produce Fairchid C-119 planes at the Kaiser-Frazer Willow Run plant.

Make Device to Clear Water After A-Bomb

Oak Ridge, Tenn., De. 21 (AP)—Two young scientists concocted an "atomic cocktail" here a month or so ago and then set about trying to take the fire out of it.

From that start they have developed a simple device, costing $2.50, which offers hope of making water supplies fit for use after an atomic bomb attack.

The development was announced yesterday by Dr. K. Z. Morgan, director of the health physics division of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory. The laboratory is the Atomic Energy Commissions chief research center here.

Credited with the development were A. H. Emmons and Robert A. Lauderdale.

Emmons described their procedure this way:

"We studied isotopes present after an atomic explosion and made an atomic cocktail of the same proportions. Then we concentrated on the isotopes that were know to slip through other types of decontamination units."

The result of their labor is a unit of two cylinders containing six layers of absorbents through which radio-active liquids pass.

Dr. Morgan said the device will "make fit for use water which is thousands of times more radioactive than the maximum tolerance" considered safe for human consumption.

$200,000 for Margaret

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Margaret Truman is negotiating a long term exclusive contract with the National Broadcasting Company for both radio and television appearances, it was announced yesterday by Charles Barry, vice president in charge of the N.B.C. radio program department. A contract has not yet been completed, but the theatrical trade paper, Variety, said Miss Truman would receive approximately $4,000 for each appearance with an income approaching $200,000 annually when her program moves over all N.B.C. AM-Video circuits. N.B.C. said no figures had been decided upon.

Authorizes Stock Sale

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 21 (AP)—The American Telephone and Telegraph Corp. has filed with the secretary of state a certificate authorizing the sale of an additional 10,000,000 shares of $100 par value stock. The action, the state department said, would increase the company's capitalization from $3,500,000,000 to $4,500,000,000. The certificate and a $500,025 check covering the tax and filing fee were received yesterday.

Ask Freight Boost

Ottawa, Dec. 21 (AP)—Canada's railways applied today for an immediate general freight-rate increase of five per cent and a deferred increase of an unspecified amount. The proposed five per cent increase, estimated to yield the carriers $17,500,000 a year, is based chiefly on this week's final settlement of their wage-hours dispute with 124,000 employes, which added $30,800,000 a year to their wage bill.

omy, the government had asked 250 large corporations to give at least seven days' notice before raising prices on any major products.

Time for Study

Economic Stabilization Director Alan Valentine said this would give his agency time to study the proposals and decide if they were justified. If not, the agency could ask or order their abandonment.

Valentine telegraphed the companies to give such advance notices on any line in which they do an annual business of $500,000 or more.

The Economic Stabilization Agency (ESA), also told General Motors Corporation that its appeal for modification of an automobile price roll-back has been rejected.

Two firms asked to held hold the price line—International Harvester Company and Socony-Vacuum Oil Company—wired agreement to go along. Sinclair Oil Corp., official said their company would comply. And Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) officials said compliance was up to affiliated operating firms but added they would be "surprised if the affiliates did not go along."

Wedding Is Postponed

Tehran, Iran, Dec. 21 (AP)—The wedding of the Shah of Iran, scheduled for Dec. 27, was postponed today because of the illness of the bride-to-be, pretty 19-year-old Soraya Esfandiari. A court announcement said Soraya, recovering from a serious attack of typhoid, has been suffering from grippe the last few days. Court officials said the marriage is now tentatively scheduled to take place in about 40 days. The worsening international situation had already put a damper on gala celebrations planned for the wedding. The Shah yesterday ordered all wedding parties, except one, canceled and forbade the giving of wedding gifts.

Two Hurt in Quarrel

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—A trucking company worker was shot today and his assailant was struck on the head with a heavy iron pipe wielded by a spectator, police said. Both men were taken, unconscious, to a hospital. One Samuel Raines, Negro, 53 of (268 Forrest street) Jersey City, was in critical condition with a fractured skull. Police quoted employes of the Continental Transportation Lines as saying there had been bad blood for some time between Raines and Michael Donohue, 42, of (78-19 79th Place, Glendale) Queens. The quarrel flared anew today and, police said, Raines drew a pistol and fired two shots. Donohue was wounded superficially. When the wounded man slumped to the ground, another employe grabbed a heavy length of pipe and slugged Raines over the head.

Candidates Slated In C.C. Election

Members of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce nominated 15 leading citizens as candidates for the office of director. A tie vote caused an extra name to be added. Bert Bishop, chairman of the election committee, reported today that the committee met Wednesday night and counted 160 nominating ballots. The following 15 names will appear on the election ballot to be mailed to all active members on January 2, from which seven are to be elected:

Bev. C. Anderson, Larry V. Bogert, Ralph M. Cooper, Edwin L. Davey, Irving L. Eyles, Floyd W. Flint, Harry Gold, Edward M. Huben, Maynard Mizel, Lawrence A. Quilty, Harry Rigby, Jr., Clarence S. Rowland, Elmer Rylance, George N. Shivery, Henry Singer.

Each member will be asked to vote for seven of the 14 nominees on the election ballot. The seven receiving the highest number of votes will be elected for a term of three years. The newly-elected directors will meet with the remaining 14 and elect officers for 1951 at the regular board meeting on January 16. The committee will count the election ballots on Wednesday, Jan. 10.

The election committee suggests that the type of business and sections of the city be kept in mind in making the final selections. A broad representative board of directors can best serve the interests of most members. The 14 directors remaining on the board as now constituted include, C. A. Baltz, Jr., Emil G. Boessneck, Pratt Boice, J. Ellis Briggs, James P. Byrne, Eugene B. Carey, Byron S. Chatham, Joseph Deegan, Bernard Feeney, R. W. Garraghan, Addison Jones, Lawrence J. MacAvery, Victor H. Roth and Robert E. Teetsel.

Indicted

Rep. Walter E. Brehm (R-Ohio) 58, was indicted in Washington, D. C., Dec. 20, by a federal grand jury on seven charges of illegally getting money from two of his office employes for use in his successful re-election campaign. Brehm, from Logan, Ohio, has been a member of the House since 1942.

Allied Barrages

troops. The report, he said, was wholly unconfirmed and doubted at headquarters because the Chinese Communists had no training in gas warfare and did not have gas masks.

British fliers from the carrier Theseus operating off the west coast reported a scarcity of targets along the main road and rail system connecting the North Korean capital of Pyongyang, Sariwon and Kumchon. They said there was an indication of night traffic along the snow-covered roads but no traffic was observed during the day.

Is Hardest Hit

A breakdown of allied casualties listed the U. S. Second Army Division as hardest hit with 4,131 casualties; next hardest hit was the U. S. First Marine Division with 2,891.

Other losses: U. S. Seventh Infantry Division, 2,097; U. S. First Cavalry Division, 443; U. S. Third Infantry Division, 650; U. S. 24th Division, 146; U. S. 25th Division, 1,606; other United Nations forces, 1,011.

MacArthur said Communist losses of 10 to one had noticeably slowed down the enemy operations.

MacArthur said the allied withdrawal from the northwest front after the Sinanju battle "was not dictated by battle losses or the acceptance of defeat."

He said the allied forces, four corps of 12 divisions, were outnumbered by nine Chinese corps of 27 divisions. Other huge Chinese Red forces were massed north of the Yalu river in Manchuria, he said.

"Under such conditions," MacArthur added, "the assumption of the defensive in a position of readiness and a tightening of frontages is an almost commonplace military maneuver."

Check Hit, Run Truck

Local and state police today sought to determine the owner of a truck reported to have struck Frank Jones of Hinsdale street, who, "while riding his bicycle on Albany avenue near Harding avenue last night, was struck and knocked off his bicycle." The boy suffered injuries of the back and a leg injury, the report said. A witness and a boy furnished descriptions of the truck, which went on without stopping, police said. Officers James Burns and Thomas McGrane investigated after a call to the state police at Lake Katrine was relayed to local headquarters at 7:18 p. m. Local detectives were also notified.

More Casualties

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—The Defense Department raised its total of announced Korean battle casualties to 36,421 today. This was a rise of 2,543 since its last report a week ago.

Late Bulletin

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—Working at top speed, the Senate today voted $20,000,000,000 for defense spending and gave approval for $1,600,000,000 of special defense construction, much of it top secret.

Rail Yardmen Get 23-Cent Boost

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—The White House today announced a three-year peace pact between the major railroads and four operating rail unions.

The agreement provides:

For 120,000 railroad yardmen—an immediate increase of 23 cents an hour, with another two cents on Jan. 1 and cost of living adjustments every three months beginning next April 1. The adjustments are to be made at the rate of one cent an hour for every rise or fall of one point in the government's consumers price index.

The 23-cent pay boost is retroactive to Oct. 1.

For about 180,000 road service workers—an immediate increase of five cents an hour, also retroactive to Oct. 1, and other five cents effective Jan. 1, plus the same cost of living arrangement.

The settlement was announced by Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman who said union leaders had agreed in principle after a 26-hour overnight conference to a moratorium on any further demands by the four unions.

The agreement probably will lead to quick restoration of the rail line operations to their owners. The army has been running the roads.

Shrinking U.N. Hungnam Beachhead

Broken and solid battle lines show how United Nations' beachhead at Hungnam in Northeast Korea has shrunk to its present size (sawtooth line). North Korean and Chinese Red assaults against the tiny area were held off by artillery and tank fire. Carrier-based planes let go with rockets and machine gun bullets into Communist positions only a few thousand yards from the beach.

She had been ill since Dec. 11. Her condition took a turn for the worse Dec. 18 when she had a stroke which left her partly paralyzed.

Mrs. Caraway was a member of the Federal Employes' Compensation Appeals Board at the time of her death.

She was a senator for slightly more than 13 years during the administration of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

TV 'Tickets' in Offing

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—You may have to buy a ticket to see special shows on your own television set if a "coded" image process demonstrated last night ever comes into general use. Known as Skiatron Subscriber Vision, the method produces a scrambled picture that straightens itself out only if you have bought a coded card which fits into a machine attached to your television set. It has been suggested as a way to provide first-run movies, Broadway plays, sports and other events that an advertiser could not afford to offer free to all set owners. Under present regulations of the Federal Communications Commission, however, broadcast channels may not be used for a fee service.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—A sudden burst of activity in utilities today enlivened an otherwise sagging stock market.

This group burst into life with gains of a few cents to more than a dollar a share. Buying was based on the theory that utilities had not participated in the spectacular rise of the last few days and therefore were due for an advance.

Gold mining shares generally were higher by as much as a dollar or a little more, but they were not particularly active on the advance.

Radio-Television issues were unchanged to a few cents higher. Elsewhere the trend was down in steels, motors, rails, oils, aircraft, and air lines.

Paramount Pictures board of directors authorized a bid placed on the stock exchange on Dec. 22 to buy Paramount Common at $21.50 a share in order to acquire 500,000 shares. The stock added more than a point and stood around the bid price.

Today's spotty set-back comes after four days of rising markets following President Truman's mobilization speech last Friday.

Higher today were Standard Gas & Electric, American Telephone, Public Service Gas & Electric, Union Gas, Aluminum Ltd., Anderson Clayton, Goodrich, Distillers Corp.-Seagrams, Admiral Corp., Dome Mines, Homestake Mining, and Allied Chemical.

Lower were U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, General Motors, Chrysleh, Boeing, Columbia Broadcasting "A", Anaconda Copper, Dow Chemical, Baltimore & Ohio, Northern Pacific, Standard Oil (N. J.), United Aid Lines, Twentieth Century-Fox, and Johns-Manville.

Curb stocks were thoroughly mixed. On the upside were Kaiser-Frazer, Alaska Airline, Electric Bond & Share, Ford Motor of Canada "A", Glen Alden Coal, and Hartford Rayon. Lower were American Republics, Cities Service, Dominion Steel, Humble Oil, Louisiana Land, and Raytheon Mfg.

Reports indicated Kaiser-Frazer and the U. S. Air Force are negotiating to produce Fairchid C-119 planes at the Kaiser-Frazer Willow Run plant.

Make Device to Clear Water After A-Bomb

Oak Ridge, Tenn., De. 21 (AP)—Two young scientists concocted an "atomic cocktail" here a month or so ago and then set about trying to take the fire out of it.

From that start they have developed a simple device, costing $2.50, which offers hope of making water supplies fit for use after an atomic bomb attack.

The development was announced yesterday by Dr. K. Z. Morgan, director of the health physics division of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory. The laboratory is the Atomic Energy Commissions chief research center here.

Credited with the development were A. H. Emmons and Robert A. Lauderdale.

Emmons described their procedure this way:

"We studied isotopes present after an atomic explosion and made an atomic cocktail of the same proportions. Then we concentrated on the isotopes that were know to slip through other types of decontamination units."

The result of their labor is a unit of two cylinders containing six layers of absorbents through which radio-active liquids pass.

Dr. Morgan said the device will "make fit for use water which is thousands of times more radioactive than the maximum tolerance" considered safe for human consumption.

$200,000 for Margaret

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Margaret Truman is negotiating a long term exclusive contract with the National Broadcasting Company for both radio and television appearances, it was announced yesterday by Charles Barry, vice president in charge of the N.B.C. radio program department. A contract has not yet been completed, but the theatrical trade paper, Variety, said Miss Truman would receive approximately $4,000 for each appearance with an income approaching $200,000 annually when her program moves over all N.B.C. AM-Video circuits. N.B.C. said no figures had been decided upon.

Authorizes Stock Sale

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 21 (AP)—The American Telephone and Telegraph Corp. has filed with the secretary of state a certificate authorizing the sale of an additional 10,000,000 shares of $100 par value stock. The action, the state department said, would increase the company's capitalization from $3,500,000,000 to $4,500,000,000. The certificate and a $500,025 check covering the tax and filing fee were received yesterday.

Ask Freight Boost

Ottawa, Dec. 21 (AP)—Canada's railways applied today for an immediate general freight-rate increase of five per cent and a deferred increase of an unspecified amount. The proposed five per cent increase, estimated to yield the carriers $17,500,000 a year, is based chiefly on this week's final settlement of their wage-hours dispute with 124,000 employes, which added $30,800,000 a year to their wage bill.

omy, the government had asked 250 large corporations to give at least seven days' notice before raising prices on any major products.

Time for Study

Economic Stabilization Director Alan Valentine said this would give his agency time to study the proposals and decide if they were justified. If not, the agency could ask or order their abandonment.

Valentine telegraphed the companies to give such advance notices on any line in which they do an annual business of $500,000 or more.

The Economic Stabilization Agency (ESA), also told General Motors Corporation that its appeal for modification of an automobile price roll-back has been rejected.

Two firms asked to held hold the price line—International Harvester Company and Socony-Vacuum Oil Company—wired agreement to go along. Sinclair Oil Corp., official said their company would comply. And Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) officials said compliance was up to affiliated operating firms but added they would be "surprised if the affiliates did not go along."

Wedding Is Postponed

Tehran, Iran, Dec. 21 (AP)—The wedding of the Shah of Iran, scheduled for Dec. 27, was postponed today because of the illness of the bride-to-be, pretty 19-year-old Soraya Esfandiari. A court announcement said Soraya, recovering from a serious attack of typhoid, has been suffering from grippe the last few days. Court officials said the marriage is now tentatively scheduled to take place in about 40 days. The worsening international situation had already put a damper on gala celebrations planned for the wedding. The Shah yesterday ordered all wedding parties, except one, canceled and forbade the giving of wedding gifts.

Two Hurt in Quarrel

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—A trucking company worker was shot today and his assailant was struck on the head with a heavy iron pipe wielded by a spectator, police said. Both men were taken, unconscious, to a hospital. One Samuel Raines, Negro, 53 of (268 Forrest street) Jersey City, was in critical condition with a fractured skull. Police quoted employes of the Continental Transportation Lines as saying there had been bad blood for some time between Raines and Michael Donohue, 42, of (78-19 79th Place, Glendale) Queens. The quarrel flared anew today and, police said, Raines drew a pistol and fired two shots. Donohue was wounded superficially. When the wounded man slumped to the ground, another employe grabbed a heavy length of pipe and slugged Raines over the head.

Turkey Prices Are Down, But Beef Is at Same Level

(By The Associated Press)

While food men try to figure out how the government's voluntary price freeze will affect price tags, shoppers stocking the family larder for Christmas this week will find:

1. Turkey prices down two to seven cents a pound in most retail stores compared with last week, but up a few cents from Thanksgiving time;

2. Beef cuts unchanged to two cents a pound higher than last week-end, pork and lamb unchanged to six cents higher, but chickens slightly lower;

3. Eggs off three to as much as 19 cents a dozen—the sharper reductions in those marketing centers which were slower to come down last week when egg prices started their plunge from record or near-record peaks:

Oranges Are Lower

4. Those big oranges for the youngsters' Christmas stockings lower than last week, along with western apples, iceberg lettuce, and onions—but cranberries, large grapefruit, beets, good celery and spinach slightly higher, and nuts about the same as at Thanksgiving;

5. And bread, shortening, cooking oils and a few canned fruits, vegetables and meats up a cent or two.

Spokesmen for several large food manufacturers, wholesalers and retail chains said it was still too early to determine how the economic stabilization agency's price freeze call on Tuesday will apply to a host of increases on food products since the base date of December 1.

They pointed out that the Defense Production Act already provides that no price controls can be slapped on farm products which are selling below parity (the legally fixed price deemed equally fair to farmers and those who buy their products). And only a few meats, cottonseed oil and rice were above parity when the latest government report on farm prices was issued last month.

Mentions June Figures

However, the freeze formula asks distributors to hold their gross margins to last June's figures, and this should tend to restrict advances at the wholesale and retail levels.

"It's going to take our legal and statistical departments weeks to untangle all the questions and conflicting views brought on by the voluntary pricing order," said a spokesman for a large food chain.

"Since the base date of the freeze, December 1, our suppliers have announced almost 600 price advances on various products—shortening, vegetable oils, coffee, salad dressings, canned meats, bottled beverages, syrups, pickles, canned vegetables, soaps, paper products, flour, bakery goods, beer and others.

"Just how many of those can be rolled back to the December 1 level nobody can say yet. Nearly all were blamed on higher costs anyhow — and the government's order permits increases for higher costs."

The Agriculture Department headlined turkeys and cranberries on this week's list of most-plentiful foods for thrifty buying. Others: Honey and peanut butter for Christmas cookies; cheeses, potato chips and pop corn for snacks; apples, oranges, grapefruit, pork, chicken, potatoes, onions, carrots and cabbage.

DECISION AND DISPATCH NEEDED

Long before the Korean war broke out, Elder Statesman Bernard M. Baruch was exhorting our leaders to get industrial mozilization plans into shape. He repeated the urging so often he annoyed many people in the capital.

Most of us probably wish now that he'd been paid more heed. For reports from Washington make it all too evident we aren't getting the decisive action on the preparedness front that the critical world situation demands.

Observers generally agree that our military and economic planning lacks speed and coordination.

For example, priority powers are shared by several agencies and no clear pattern of control has developed from their orders. Pronouncements on stabilizing the economy have come from the economic stabilizer, the price stabilizer, and W. Stuart Symington, head of the National Security Resources Board.

The National Production Authority is setting limits on the output of numerous industries, yet the individual producers in these fields aren't being told what their specific role is to be. N.P.A. is admittedly proceeding largely by guesswork, since it doesn't know yet how big the defense program is going to be.

The Munitions Board and the Resources Board have the job of working out that program. They haven't yet come up with it. For two valuable months this fall, the munitions group lacked a chairman. Seasoned reporters declare that instead of planning boldly and big, our top men are thinking in limited terms, raising their sights reluctantly only when events compel it.

In the nation's highest economic councils, then, there is vagueness, drift, and indecision. And this serious circumstance exists at a time when we are being told that strength and strength alone will deter the Soviet Union from its aim to crush the whole free world.

We have that strength, but it is potential. It has not been mustered in a form that will impress Russia. Actually, it is mainly on paper. Said the Johnson Senate Committee earlier this fall: "Paper work preparedness is only flimsy protection against the threat we face."

There is urgent need in Washington for a clear chain of responsibility leading upward to a single home front commander equipped with the authority to make his voice heard unmistakably. Symington doesn't now have that power, and precious time is being wasted. We need decision and dispatch at the top level if we are to marshal our power in time.

STRENGTH IN BRITAIN

Presumably the suspension of Marshall Plan aid to Great Britain was argeed on because Britain really is solvent again, has achieved sufficient recovery to give its leaders confidence that Britain can take care of itself. This has political as well as economic implications for both Britain and the United States.

A sorely needed good word is provided for the Marshall Plan. It has been under renewed attack in the last few months because of the many other heavy demands which are being made on our national budget. Economy-minded congressmen again have been casting a speculative eye on the program, asking for concrete evidence that it is accomplishing good. The suspension of aid to Britain reduces the load, and also is offered as proof that the aid really is helping to strengthen Europe.

In Britain the Labor government is enabled to post a feather in its cap, by citing the fact that it has been able to get rid of the dollar deficit, doubtless blamed for many ills which it was not entirely responsible. Reference to this achievement should be very helpful if there was an election in 1951.

In world affairs the accomplishment is significant. Britain has traditionally been the most widely respected and listened-to of the world powers. British prestige as an international leader has unavoidably suffered from the fact that the nation was financially dependent on America. At this critical moment in world affairs some restoration of this prestige might be very helpful, and severance of the link of dependency may help American prestige, also.

A great duel is now going on, says Harry A. Overstreet, author and philosopher. It is between the open and closed mind, between the right of human beings to think for themselves and the compulsion that they become slaves of their government, in mind as well as in body.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

WHAT MEANS UNITY?

The Republicans have petitioned the President to redress a great grievance against the United States by dismissing Dean Acheson as secretary of state. The petition will, for the moment, be ignored.

Democrats and others suggest that this is no time to complain about Dean Acheson. They propose that we shall have unity. If by unity, they mean that no public official is to be criticized even if the blood of our sons is spilled because of his stiff-necked obstinacy and his lack of good sense, then they ask not for unity but for abject acceptance of stupidity as a rule of life.

It would seem that logic would require, if unity is to be achieved, that one who has become so unpalatable to the American people as Dean Acheson is, be retired. Who is this man, that unity must depend upon his continuance in office?

Suppose by the laws of nature, Dean Acheson were to drop dead, as my friend, Jim McGuinness, did a fortnight ago—would the United States cease to exist? If it is unity that is required and this man is an impediment to unity, does Mr. Truman mean to tell us that even among deserving Democrats there is not one man who is capable of being secretary of state, of inspiring confidence and of achieving unity?

I can name some: Chief Justice Fred Vinson, Robert A. Lovett, James Farley, Robert P. Patterson, James Byrnes, Senator Walter F. George and dozens of others. If the President were to accept a national rather than a partisan criterion, the number is very large. This nation is not so bankrupt in personalities that it is limited to one man, to any one man.

Therefore, the plea that opposition to Dean Acheson imperils unity is nonsense. It is Dean Acheson who imperils unity.

His policy in China has proved to be a failure for which we are paying with the lives of our children. His policy in Europe has brought us only associates but no allies. His policy in South America has weakened our ties with our most important neighbors. He has appeased Soviet Russia until that country has become the mightiest on earth, lessening our influence by a war in which we have been defeated. He has only enriched Great Britain at our expense.

Surely, it is not Dean Acheson, but the United States of America that is important.

In 1943, the United States was a tremendous force in the world, courted by all nations. We were feeding a large part of the world; we were supplying warring nations. We were giving away about $50,000,000,000. We were giving to Russia $11,000,000,000. We were fighting on a dozen fronts. In Asia, we were fighting nearly alone with Nationalist China as our principal ally. In Europe, our troops were carrying the burden into Germany.

In November, two conferences were held, one at Cairo and one at Teheran, and from December 1, 1943, until today our power in the world has been receding. At Moscow, Teheran, Dumbarton Oaks, Yalta, San Francisco, London and Paris the United States was talked out of influence, power and authority. And all the time the American taxpayer was paying for his own destruction. And it culminated in the retreat from Korea and the miserable monkeys insulting our country in daily speeches on our own soil at the United Nations, and they are entitled to do it by treaty. We have come to that.

Now, I do not say that Dean Acheson is responsible for all that. Such an assumption is wholly false. He is not a big enough man to have done so much damage.

But he is also not a big enough man to have arrested the decay of policy, to have strengthened our moral position or to have inspired confidence in the people.

Acheson has become a symbol of decay. The American people responded to the symbol that Acheson has become when he spoke on television and radio and chilled his countrymen. It was not the words, nor his immaculate dress, nor his lack of oratory. It was an atmosphere.

The terrifying fact that faces this country is that in this war we are led by many of the same personalities who since November, 1943, have been the authors of our failures. What unity can there be in that?

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

MANY OF US MAY NEED EXTRA IRON

Most of us know that we should eat some of the various foodstuffs every day: proteins (fish, eggs, meats, cereals); starches (bread, sugar, potatoes); fats (butter, cream, fat meats); vitamins and minerals which are found in the above three classes of foods and also in fruits and vegetables. We know that proteins are body builders, building up new and worn tissues; that starches give energy and heat; that fats give energy, heat and lubrication; that minerals are needed in maintaining structure of body cells and vitamins act as sort of joiners of food cells to make each cell do its utmost in work. Liquids are needed by every cell in the body.

Practically everybody knows that the blood must be rich in hemoglobin (iron) if we are to keep well and strong and, added to iron, there must be a sufficient amount of calcium (lime). Foods rich in iron are meat (especially liver), egg yolk, whole grains and leafy vegetables. Foods rich in calcium are milk, cheese, leafy vegetables and egg yolk. The ordinary normal or healthy individual can get enough iron and calcium for his daily needs by eating one or two servings of these foods.

There are many apparently normal individuals whose skin is pale, lining of mouth pale and also lining of eyelids, and there is often a fast heart. In The Journal of The American Medical Association, Dr. John B. Youmans, Medical Department, Vanderbilt University, Nashville, states that while foods rich in iron are sufficient to keep the blood rich enough in normal individuals, those with thin blood, a general feeling of weakness, and a rapid heart need more than foods rich in iron. These anemic individulas should see their physician and have iron prescribed direct, not just in foods, if they are to regain strength within a reasonable time. For adults with thin blood, sometimes intensive treatment with iron (injections and by mouth) brings sufficient improvement in a week or ten days.

The childbearing mother also must receive extra iron to give her child the proper start in life; infants and children often need extra iron.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—White House policy can change overnight, but for the present we have no intention of mobilizing the vast but disorganized army of anti-Communist guerrillas in China. President Truman so advised a group of congressmen at an off-the-record and very candid meeting last week.

Truman also is holding firm to his resolve not to drop the atomic bomb in China or Korea.

"That doesn't mean that we are appeasing the Chinese Communists—far from it," Truman told his callers. "They are aggressors and we will continue to treat them as such."

Truman added that if British Prime Minister Clement Attlee came with any appeasement notions, he left without them. He agreed with Attlee, however, that if we used the A-bomb, Russia would seize the opportunity to retaliate against London, Berlin and Paris.

But the argument that carried the most weight with him, Truman explained, was that we should not atom-bomb Russian satellites in reprisal against the Kremlin.

Regarding the question of arming Chinese guerrillas against the Communists, the President pointed out that it might lead to a retaliatory Communist move against the Philippines; also that the guerrillas are too "inaccessible" and scattered to be supplied from the air or welded together into an effective fighting force.

Note — The congressmen who conferred with the President included Francis Walter of Pennsylvania, Brooks Hays of Arkansas, House whip Percy Priest of Tennessee, all Democrats; with Kenneth Keating of New York and Walter Judd of Minnesota, Republicans.

Capital News Capsules

Another Music Critic—President Truman has a different opinion of at least one music critic—Mrs. Helen Knox Spain of the Atlanta Journal, who wrote such a favorable review of Margaret's concert in Atlanta last season that the President bubbled over with joy and telegraphed the Atlanta Journal for extra copies of Margaret's picture. (Contrary to rumor, the President did not use profane language in his note to critic Paul Hume of the Washington Post).

Senator from Tennessee—Senator McKellar of Tennessee, grandpa of the Senate, is planning to run again in '52. He told Boss Crump of Memphis about his plans but Crump warned that McKellar was too old. This made the senator so sore that he stomped out of Crump's office and caught the first plane back to Washington.

U. S. Trained Germans—Without waiting for European diplomats to come to terms, the U. S. Army has quietly trained 10,000 West Germans right under the noses of the Russians to serve as the nucleus for a future West German army. Two thousand have been armed and equipped into battalions in West Berlin, with the rest stationed in four training centers in the western zone under the label of "Labor Battalions." Actually, they are carefully selected anti-Nazis who will be the officers of the new German army.

Chinese Monroe Doctrine

Most significant news to come out of Asia recently resulted from a talk between Prime Minister Nehru of India and U. S. Ambassador Loy Henderson, at which Nehru broke the news of the new Chinese Monroe Doctrine for Asia.

Nehru reported that the Indian ambassador in Peiping had cabled that the Chinese Communists were planning to pop a big surprise on the western world in the form of a Monroe Doctrine.

This would mean that all white and non-Asiatic nations were to keep out. Any interference, according to the proposed Chinese Monroe Doctrine, would be justification for war. The doctrine would also apply to Japan, Prime Minister Nehru informed Ambassador Henderson.

Note—Nehru is not in sympathy with the Chinese policy, believes Europeans and Asiatics can cooperate together.

Legal Wire-Tapping

Congressmen will give special attention in January to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals decision overthrowing the Judy Coplon conviction. In this decision, the three judges took the unusual course of recommending legislation to Congress—something that judges, in our system of checks and balances, seldom do.

Pointing out that the F.B.I. had less power than the ordinary sheriff, the court recommended that F.B.I. powers to arrest be enlarged; also that certain phases of wire-tapping be declared legal when it involved "espionage, sabotage, kidnapping, extortion and national security."

J. Edgar Hoover has leaned over backward against any illegal use of wire-tapping — unlike many other government agencies, the Washington police and even some senators. In fact, the protection of civil liberties would be much safer if Hoover's bureau alone were allowed to handle wire-tapping.

Congress will consider all this in January.

When President Truman first wrote last week's national emergency speech he called for a 4,000,000-man army and navy. At the last minute, however, he scaled it down to three and a half million men—a victory for the air force. The air force wants priority given to airplanes and weapons instead of manpower. . . . Alcide de Gasperi of Italy is the latest European premier to propose a visit to Washington. . . . Chester Bowles, retiring governor of Connecticut, has been offered the very important job of directing the multibillion-dollar arms program to Europe. (Bowles has declined the offer of ambassador to the Philippines.) . . . U. S. intelligence expects hordes of Chinese so-called "volunteers" to pour into Indo-China any day. . . . Mayor Martin Kennelly of Chicago has staged a farsighted campaign to alert the public against enemy sabotage. Kennelly put on a real-life show, illustrating how enemy agents could poison Chicago's drinking water.

Washington Pipeline

Senator Pepper's subcommittee, investigating wire-tapping, will call some new witnesses before closing the books on Senator Brewster's wire-tapping activities . . . The new post of defense mobilization director was offered first to Paul Hoffman, former ECA administrator, before it went to Charles E. Wilson. Hoffman, however, turned it down . . . Purcell Smith, the $65,000-a-year private power lobbyist, was caught sending notes to Congressman Jensen of Iowa inside the House Appropriations Committee—while the committee was debating public power. The lobbyist hid in Jensen's office and sent the notes by messenger . . . The potent associated farmers and national cannery lobbies are at it again. This time they're working on the House Agriculture Committee to repeal the child labor law ban against farm children working during school hours . . . "Torrid" is the latest Pentagonese for critical materials with high priorities.

Important Issue Is Not Acheson, but Whether Orient Policy Is to Be Changed

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 21—President Truman has decided not to change his secretary of state—but that's only half the problem. The real issue is whether the Far Eastern policy of the Department of State is to be changed.

Many of the persons who know Dean Acheson well have been amazed at the bitterness of the attack against him as an individual, for they have never discerned in him any basis for personal charges of affinity for the doctrines of communism or for the policies of Soviet Russia.

To dismiss the campaign against Mr. Acheson as simply McCarthyism or Republican partisanship, however, would be a grave mistake for the friends of the administration to make. The issue which is causing a widespread campaign of attack against the secretary of state—and which accounts for the frequently heard contention that he has lost the confidence of the country—turns on the record of the Department of State in Asia.

The record is not a good one. Whatever the explanations may be, the policy which led the administration to propose at one time that Communists be taken into the Nationalist government can be said to have contributed to the downfall of Chiang Kai-shek. The argument that he was corrupt or ineffective as a leader does not erase the fact that the government of the United States was partly responsible for the rise of the Communist regime in China through extending moral support to the opponents of Chiang Kai-shek.

The record toward Korea likewise has not been good. There was a tendency to regard Syngman Rhee as a "reactionary"—which is the Communist characterization of him—and the Department of State did not give wholehearted support to the Korean republic. Considerable debate has developed in Congress on how much economic and military aid was actually extended to the Korean republic.

But when, last January, it was announced by the secretary of state that the American defense line did not include Korea, this was taken by the Communists to mean that they had a free hand to invade South Korea.

Now it turns out that nobody was more forceful or positive about resisting the aggression in Korea last June than was Dean Acheson. He has never been "soft" about the Russians and his attitude toward Soviet Russia on European questions has been, if anything, more rigid and inflexible in its opposition than that of anybody on Capitol Hill.

So far as Secretary Acheson's record in Europe is concerned, it is above criticism. When President Truman said that, if communism were to prevail in the world "Dean Acheson would be one of the first, if not the first, to be shot by the enemies of liberty and Christianity," he certainly was stating the obvious to anyone who knows the record.

But, when all is said and done, the European aspects of the matter do not touch the basic antagonism to Secretary Acheson. The case against him is founded on his far eastern policy. It might be said that anyone can make mistakes and that this is not the time to rehash them. But that's not what the opposition to Secretary Acheson on Capitol Hill is concerned about.

The truth is the critics of Secretary Acheson fear he will, by one means or another, seek loopholes in procedure or will passively accept moves which will ultimately permit Red China to get a seat on the U.N. Security Council, that he will sacrifice Formosa, and that he will abandon the South Korean population.

Nobody knows at this moment what the American policy is going to be on these matters, but it is a safe bet that, if the Department of State announced that it would use the veto to keep Red China out of the Security Council, that it would use its influence to persuade other nations to vote against any measure in the assembly which looks toward admission of Red China, and if there were a positive policy to carry on air and sea power measures against Red China to protect Korea and the American defense line in the Far East, much, if not all, of the opposition to the continuance of Secretary Acheson in the cabinet would be removed. It is future policy that will keep the controversy going, and it is modification of existing policy that will end the controversy.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Dec. 20—When that great patriot, James Kevin McGuinness, died a little while ago, I reported that he had been whispered out of the motion picture industry as punishment for giving testimony against the Communist treachery at the 1947 hearings of the Committee on Un-American Activities. Jim never knew whose hand plunged the knife into his back. He was tried in absentia, knowing neither the charge nor the name of his accuser, and, after some remote negotiations with the secret terror, contact was broken and he was done for. Meanwhile, actors, writers, producers and others implicated in the treason have gone on to greater wealth and renown. The motion picture industry professes to have cleaned house but has done nothing of the kind.

Jim was an active leader of the American Legion's fight against treason, having resumed his dormant membership a few years ago when he decided that organization was necessary to wage the counterattack. Previously he had dropped out as a silent objection to the shameful misconduct of Legionnaires at some of the national conventions in the 'twenties. But he always believed in the original principles of the Legion and so, when he realized that the motion picture industry was infested with actual traitors who were trying to betray his country to Soviet Russia, Jim went back into the fold. During the same period, Jim also lagged in his religious devoirs. I would not presume to discuss this phase of his life except to make the point that when the issue was joined, Jim fought as a Christian crusader and a gallant gentleman. He was deeply religious now, and, in his dying moment, called to his wife, "Lucie, I am dying! Hand me my prayer-book!"

Jim was a fine man, a martyr worthy of the same respect that is due the young men who gave their lives in Korea. He fought in the same cause. Had he been 21 or 25 when this war came, and not 67, he undoubtedly would have joined up as he did in 1917 when he fought in France as an infantry lieutenant.

I recently mentioned a beautiful patriotic pageant which Jim wrote for the national convention of the American Legion which was held in Hollywood under a promise by the movie industry to finance a great show in the Hollywood Bowl. Jim was a political outcast of the movie industry and his script was ruled out. One man even had the effrontery to propose that Edward G. Robinson, the movie actor who had been so mockingly defiant when Jim was fighting the Reds, should be selected for a leading part in the patriotic production under Legion auspices. He was told, however, that Robinson never would be allowed to use the Legion to clear his skirts.

You might savor the beauty of Jim's devotion to his country by reading these few samples of an oration written by Jim and delivered at the pageant by Father Edward Carney, of Lawrence, Mass., the national chaplain of the Legion:

"Humbly reverent, we lay the wreath of sweet remembrance before those, our comrades, who made the last—the utmost payment to establish and preserve the freedom they bequeathed to us as the greatest gift of comradeship and love. We are alive because they are dead. We taste each day the luscious fruits of their sublime generosity. We know each day the brightness of the returning sun; walking in the free breeze of a land still free because of those who fell so that we might stand erect, owing no man anything but affection freely given.

Small Rodents Starve

Davis, Calif. (AP)—Small rodents, such as mice, can starve to death quickly in cold weather, says Walter E. Howard of the University of California. When it is cold the little animals must eat several times as much food as when it is warm. They do not seem to be able to break down stored fat in their bodies fast enough to prevent starvation when it is cold. However, through use of warm nests and huddling they can keep warm enough to prevent the quick starvation, Howard says.

Car Prices Rise

Singapore, (AP) — The present trade boom sweeping Malaya together with the shortage of new cars coming into this country is bringing higher prices for second-hand cars. Dealers say prices have risen from 10 to 12 per cent in recent weeks.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

Dec. 21, 1930—Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Willmott, of Jersey City, were badly burned when a pan of gasoline exploded in their apartment. Mr. Wilmott was a son of Henry L. Willmott, Jr., of this city.

A large tenement house on the Rose Brothers brick yard near East Kingston was destroyed by fire.

Joseph F. Mulligan, of Park avenue, and Miss Anna Brown, of Prospect street, were married.

James E. Manning, of Sycamore street, died at the Benedictine Hospital.

Dec. 21, 1940—George W. Erts, a former town of Denning supervisor, shot a 225-pound bear near Ladleton.

An outbreak of mumps was reported in the city, but because the disease was not reportable, the number of cases was unknown.

A police sextet in charge of Sgt. Ernest A. Boss, and including Officers Peter Minasian, Earl Schoonmaker, Howard Kinch, Lemuel Howard and Grover Hoffay, sang over the local radio.

The area overnight temperature was 34 degrees.

Stagecoaches were operated regularly in New Mexico until 1881, when the first railroads were built into the state.

DECISION AND DISPATCH NEEDED

Long before the Korean war broke out, Elder Statesman Bernard M. Baruch was exhorting our leaders to get industrial mozilization plans into shape. He repeated the urging so often he annoyed many people in the capital.

Most of us probably wish now that he'd been paid more heed. For reports from Washington make it all too evident we aren't getting the decisive action on the preparedness front that the critical world situation demands.

Observers generally agree that our military and economic planning lacks speed and coordination.

For example, priority powers are shared by several agencies and no clear pattern of control has developed from their orders. Pronouncements on stabilizing the economy have come from the economic stabilizer, the price stabilizer, and W. Stuart Symington, head of the National Security Resources Board.

The National Production Authority is setting limits on the output of numerous industries, yet the individual producers in these fields aren't being told what their specific role is to be. N.P.A. is admittedly proceeding largely by guesswork, since it doesn't know yet how big the defense program is going to be.

The Munitions Board and the Resources Board have the job of working out that program. They haven't yet come up with it. For two valuable months this fall, the munitions group lacked a chairman. Seasoned reporters declare that instead of planning boldly and big, our top men are thinking in limited terms, raising their sights reluctantly only when events compel it.

In the nation's highest economic councils, then, there is vagueness, drift, and indecision. And this serious circumstance exists at a time when we are being told that strength and strength alone will deter the Soviet Union from its aim to crush the whole free world.

We have that strength, but it is potential. It has not been mustered in a form that will impress Russia. Actually, it is mainly on paper. Said the Johnson Senate Committee earlier this fall: "Paper work preparedness is only flimsy protection against the threat we face."

There is urgent need in Washington for a clear chain of responsibility leading upward to a single home front commander equipped with the authority to make his voice heard unmistakably. Symington doesn't now have that power, and precious time is being wasted. We need decision and dispatch at the top level if we are to marshal our power in time.

STRENGTH IN BRITAIN

Presumably the suspension of Marshall Plan aid to Great Britain was argeed on because Britain really is solvent again, has achieved sufficient recovery to give its leaders confidence that Britain can take care of itself. This has political as well as economic implications for both Britain and the United States.

A sorely needed good word is provided for the Marshall Plan. It has been under renewed attack in the last few months because of the many other heavy demands which are being made on our national budget. Economy-minded congressmen again have been casting a speculative eye on the program, asking for concrete evidence that it is accomplishing good. The suspension of aid to Britain reduces the load, and also is offered as proof that the aid really is helping to strengthen Europe.

In Britain the Labor government is enabled to post a feather in its cap, by citing the fact that it has been able to get rid of the dollar deficit, doubtless blamed for many ills which it was not entirely responsible. Reference to this achievement should be very helpful if there was an election in 1951.

In world affairs the accomplishment is significant. Britain has traditionally been the most widely respected and listened-to of the world powers. British prestige as an international leader has unavoidably suffered from the fact that the nation was financially dependent on America. At this critical moment in world affairs some restoration of this prestige might be very helpful, and severance of the link of dependency may help American prestige, also.

A great duel is now going on, says Harry A. Overstreet, author and philosopher. It is between the open and closed mind, between the right of human beings to think for themselves and the compulsion that they become slaves of their government, in mind as well as in body.

Liquids are needed by every cell in the body.

Practically everybody knows that the blood must be rich in hemoglobin (iron) if we are to keep well and strong and, added to iron, there must be a sufficient amount of calcium (lime). Foods rich in iron are meat (especially liver), egg yolk, whole grains and leafy vegetables. Foods rich in calcium are milk, cheese, leafy vegetables and egg yolk. The ordinary normal or healthy individual can get enough iron and calcium for his daily needs by eating one or two servings of these foods.

There are many apparently normal individuals whose skin is pale, lining of mouth pale and also lining of eyelids, and there is often a fast heart. In The Journal of The American Medical Association, Dr. John B. Youmans, Medical Department, Vanderbilt University, Nashville, states that while foods rich in iron are sufficient to keep the blood rich enough in normal individuals, those with thin blood, a general feeling of weakness, and a rapid heart need more than foods rich in iron. These anemic individulas should see their physician and have iron prescribed direct, not just in foods, if they are to regain strength within a reasonable time. For adults with thin blood, sometimes intensive treatment with iron (injections and by mouth) brings sufficient improvement in a week or ten days.

The childbearing mother also must receive extra iron to give her child the proper start in life; infants and children often need extra iron.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—White House policy can change overnight, but for the present we have no intention of mobilizing the vast but disorganized army of anti-Communist guerrillas in China. President Truman so advised a group of congressmen at an off-the-record and very candid meeting last week.

Truman also is holding firm to his resolve not to drop the atomic bomb in China or Korea.

"That doesn't mean that we are appeasing the Chinese Communists—far from it," Truman told his callers. "They are aggressors and we will continue to treat them as such."

Truman added that if British Prime Minister Clement Attlee came with any appeasement notions, he left without them. He agreed with Attlee, however, that if we used the A-bomb, Russia would seize the opportunity to retaliate against London, Berlin and Paris.

But the argument that carried the most weight with him, Truman explained, was that we should not atom-bomb Russian satellites in reprisal against the Kremlin.

Regarding the question of arming Chinese guerrillas against the Communists, the President pointed out that it might lead to a retaliatory Communist move against the Philippines; also that the guerrillas are too "inaccessible" and scattered to be supplied from the air or welded together into an effective fighting force.

Note — The congressmen who conferred with the President included Francis Walter of Pennsylvania, Brooks Hays of Arkansas, House whip Percy Priest of Tennessee, all Democrats; with Kenneth Keating of New York and Walter Judd of Minnesota, Republicans.

Capital News Capsules

Another Music Critic—President Truman has a different opinion of at least one music critic—Mrs. Helen Knox Spain of the Atlanta Journal, who wrote such a favorable review of Margaret's concert in Atlanta last season that the President bubbled over with joy and telegraphed the Atlanta Journal for extra copies of Margaret's picture. (Contrary to rumor, the President did not use profane language in his note to critic Paul Hume of the Washington Post).

Senator from Tennessee—Senator McKellar of Tennessee, grandpa of the Senate, is planning to run again in '52. He told Boss Crump of Memphis about his plans but Crump warned that McKellar was too old. This made the senator so sore that he stomped out of Crump's office and caught the first plane back to Washington.

U. S. Trained Germans—Without waiting for European diplomats to come to terms, the U. S. Army has quietly trained 10,000 West Germans right under the noses of the Russians to serve as the nucleus for a future West German army. Two thousand have been armed and equipped into battalions in West Berlin, with the rest stationed in four training centers in the western zone under the label of "Labor Battalions." Actually, they are carefully selected anti-Nazis who will be the officers of the new German army.

Chinese Monroe Doctrine

Most significant news to come out of Asia recently resulted from a talk between Prime Minister Nehru of India and U. S. Ambassador Loy Henderson, at which Nehru broke the news of the new Chinese Monroe Doctrine for Asia.

Nehru reported that the Indian ambassador in Peiping had cabled that the Chinese Communists were planning to pop a big surprise on the western world in the form of a Monroe Doctrine.

This would mean that all white and non-Asiatic nations were to keep out. Any interference, according to the proposed Chinese Monroe Doctrine, would be justification for war. The doctrine would also apply to Japan, Prime Minister Nehru informed Ambassador Henderson.

Note—Nehru is not in sympathy with the Chinese policy, believes Europeans and Asiatics can cooperate together.

Legal Wire-Tapping

Congressmen will give special attention in January to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals decision overthrowing the Judy Coplon conviction. In this decision, the three judges took the unusual course of recommending legislation to Congress—something that judges, in our system of checks and balances, seldom do.

Pointing out that the F.B.I. had less power than the ordinary sheriff, the court recommended that F.B.I. powers to arrest be enlarged; also that certain phases of wire-tapping be declared legal when it involved "espionage, sabotage, kidnapping, extortion and national security."

J. Edgar Hoover has leaned over backward against any illegal use of wire-tapping — unlike many other government agencies, the Washington police and even some senators. In fact, the protection of civil liberties would be much safer if Hoover's bureau alone were allowed to handle wire-tapping.

Congress will consider all this in January.

When President Truman first wrote last week's national emergency speech he called for a 4,000,000-man army and navy. At the last minute, however, he scaled it down to three and a half million men—a victory for the air force. The air force wants priority given to airplanes and weapons instead of manpower. . . . Alcide de Gasperi of Italy is the latest European premier to propose a visit to Washington. . . . Chester Bowles, retiring governor of Connecticut, has been offered the very important job of directing the multibillion-dollar arms program to Europe. (Bowles has declined the offer of ambassador to the Philippines.) . . . U. S. intelligence expects hordes of Chinese so-called "volunteers" to pour into Indo-China any day. . . . Mayor Martin Kennelly of Chicago has staged a farsighted campaign to alert the public against enemy sabotage. Kennelly put on a real-life show, illustrating how enemy agents could poison Chicago's drinking water.

Washington Pipeline

Senator Pepper's subcommittee, investigating wire-tapping, will call some new witnesses before closing the books on Senator Brewster's wire-tapping activities . . . The new post of defense mobilization director was offered first to Paul Hoffman, former ECA administrator, before it went to Charles E. Wilson. Hoffman, however, turned it down . . . Purcell Smith, the $65,000-a-year private power lobbyist, was caught sending notes to Congressman Jensen of Iowa inside the House Appropriations Committee—while the committee was debating public power. The lobbyist hid in Jensen's office and sent the notes by messenger . . . The potent associated farmers and national cannery lobbies are at it again. This time they're working on the House Agriculture Committee to repeal the child labor law ban against farm children working during school hours . . . "Torrid" is the latest Pentagonese for critical materials with high priorities.

Important Issue Is Not Acheson, but Whether Orient Policy Is to Be Changed

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 21—President Truman has decided not to change his secretary of state—but that's only half the problem. The real issue is whether the Far Eastern policy of the Department of State is to be changed.

Many of the persons who know Dean Acheson well have been amazed at the bitterness of the attack against him as an individual, for they have never discerned in him any basis for personal charges of affinity for the doctrines of communism or for the policies of Soviet Russia.

To dismiss the campaign against Mr. Acheson as simply McCarthyism or Republican partisanship, however, would be a grave mistake for the friends of the administration to make. The issue which is causing a widespread campaign of attack against the secretary of state—and which accounts for the frequently heard contention that he has lost the confidence of the country—turns on the record of the Department of State in Asia.

The record is not a good one. Whatever the explanations may be, the policy which led the administration to propose at one time that Communists be taken into the Nationalist government can be said to have contributed to the downfall of Chiang Kai-shek. The argument that he was corrupt or ineffective as a leader does not erase the fact that the government of the United States was partly responsible for the rise of the Communist regime in China through extending moral support to the opponents of Chiang Kai-shek.

The record toward Korea likewise has not been good. There was a tendency to regard Syngman Rhee as a "reactionary"—which is the Communist characterization of him—and the Department of State did not give wholehearted support to the Korean republic. Considerable debate has developed in Congress on how much economic and military aid was actually extended to the Korean republic.

But when, last January, it was announced by the secretary of state that the American defense line did not include Korea, this was taken by the Communists to mean that they had a free hand to invade South Korea.

Now it turns out that nobody was more forceful or positive about resisting the aggression in Korea last June than was Dean Acheson. He has never been "soft" about the Russians and his attitude toward Soviet Russia on European questions has been, if anything, more rigid and inflexible in its opposition than that of anybody on Capitol Hill.

So far as Secretary Acheson's record in Europe is concerned, it is above criticism. When President Truman said that, if communism were to prevail in the world "Dean Acheson would be one of the first, if not the first, to be shot by the enemies of liberty and Christianity," he certainly was stating the obvious to anyone who knows the record.

But, when all is said and done, the European aspects of the matter do not touch the basic antagonism to Secretary Acheson. The case against him is founded on his far eastern policy. It might be said that anyone can make mistakes and that this is not the time to rehash them. But that's not what the opposition to Secretary Acheson on Capitol Hill is concerned about.

The truth is the critics of Secretary Acheson fear he will, by one means or another, seek loopholes in procedure or will passively accept moves which will ultimately permit Red China to get a seat on the U.N. Security Council, that he will sacrifice Formosa, and that he will abandon the South Korean population.

Nobody knows at this moment what the American policy is going to be on these matters, but it is a safe bet that, if the Department of State announced that it would use the veto to keep Red China out of the Security Council, that it would use its influence to persuade other nations to vote against any measure in the assembly which looks toward admission of Red China, and if there were a positive policy to carry on air and sea power measures against Red China to protect Korea and the American defense line in the Far East, much, if not all, of the opposition to the continuance of Secretary Acheson in the cabinet would be removed. It is future policy that will keep the controversy going, and it is modification of existing policy that will end the controversy.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Dec. 20—When that great patriot, James Kevin McGuinness, died a little while ago, I reported that he had been whispered out of the motion picture industry as punishment for giving testimony against the Communist treachery at the 1947 hearings of the Committee on Un-American Activities. Jim never knew whose hand plunged the knife into his back. He was tried in absentia, knowing neither the charge nor the name of his accuser, and, after some remote negotiations with the secret terror, contact was broken and he was done for. Meanwhile, actors, writers, producers and others implicated in the treason have gone on to greater wealth and renown. The motion picture industry professes to have cleaned house but has done nothing of the kind.

Jim was an active leader of the American Legion's fight against treason, having resumed his dormant membership a few years ago when he decided that organization was necessary to wage the counterattack. Previously he had dropped out as a silent objection to the shameful misconduct of Legionnaires at some of the national conventions in the 'twenties. But he always believed in the original principles of the Legion and so, when he realized that the motion picture industry was infested with actual traitors who were trying to betray his country to Soviet Russia, Jim went back into the fold. During the same period, Jim also lagged in his religious devoirs. I would not presume to discuss this phase of his life except to make the point that when the issue was joined, Jim fought as a Christian crusader and a gallant gentleman. He was deeply religious now, and, in his dying moment, called to his wife, "Lucie, I am dying! Hand me my prayer-book!"

Jim was a fine man, a martyr worthy of the same respect that is due the young men who gave their lives in Korea. He fought in the same cause. Had he been 21 or 25 when this war came, and not 67, he undoubtedly would have joined up as he did in 1917 when he fought in France as an infantry lieutenant.

I recently mentioned a beautiful patriotic pageant which Jim wrote for the national convention of the American Legion which was held in Hollywood under a promise by the movie industry to finance a great show in the Hollywood Bowl. Jim was a political outcast of the movie industry and his script was ruled out. One man even had the effrontery to propose that Edward G. Robinson, the movie actor who had been so mockingly defiant when Jim was fighting the Reds, should be selected for a leading part in the patriotic production under Legion auspices. He was told, however, that Robinson never would be allowed to use the Legion to clear his skirts.

You might savor the beauty of Jim's devotion to his country by reading these few samples of an oration written by Jim and delivered at the pageant by Father Edward Carney, of Lawrence, Mass., the national chaplain of the Legion:

"Humbly reverent, we lay the wreath of sweet remembrance before those, our comrades, who made the last—the utmost payment to establish and preserve the freedom they bequeathed to us as the greatest gift of comradeship and love. We are alive because they are dead. We taste each day the luscious fruits of their sublime generosity. We know each day the brightness of the returning sun; walking in the free breeze of a land still free because of those who fell so that we might stand erect, owing no man anything but affection freely given.

Small Rodents Starve

Davis, Calif. (AP)—Small rodents, such as mice, can starve to death quickly in cold weather, says Walter E. Howard of the University of California. When it is cold the little animals must eat several times as much food as when it is warm. They do not seem to be able to break down stored fat in their bodies fast enough to prevent starvation when it is cold. However, through use of warm nests and huddling they can keep warm enough to prevent the quick starvation, Howard says.

Car Prices Rise

Singapore, (AP) — The present trade boom sweeping Malaya together with the shortage of new cars coming into this country is bringing higher prices for second-hand cars. Dealers say prices have risen from 10 to 12 per cent in recent weeks.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

Dec. 21, 1930—Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Willmott, of Jersey City, were badly burned when a pan of gasoline exploded in their apartment. Mr. Wilmott was a son of Henry L. Willmott, Jr., of this city.

A large tenement house on the Rose Brothers brick yard near East Kingston was destroyed by fire.

Joseph F. Mulligan, of Park avenue, and Miss Anna Brown, of Prospect street, were married.

James E. Manning, of Sycamore street, died at the Benedictine Hospital.

Dec. 21, 1940—George W. Erts, a former town of Denning supervisor, shot a 225-pound bear near Ladleton.

An outbreak of mumps was reported in the city, but because the disease was not reportable, the number of cases was unknown.

A police sextet in charge of Sgt. Ernest A. Boss, and including Officers Peter Minasian, Earl Schoonmaker, Howard Kinch, Lemuel Howard and Grover Hoffay, sang over the local radio.

The area overnight temperature was 34 degrees.

Stagecoaches were operated regularly in New Mexico until 1881, when the first railroads were built into the state.

Korean Orphans Transported to Island of Safety

Seoul, Dec. 21 (AP)—Nearly a thousand big-eyed little Korean street orphans were air-lifted to an island sanctuary off South Korea Wednesday in "Operation Kiddie Car."

Fifteen twin-engine American transport planes landed at nearby Kimpo air base to fly the war waifs out of the combat zone.

Truck after truck rolled up loaded with children and backed up to the open plane doors. There were 964 kids in all, ranging in age from six months to 11 years. Most had been saved from gutter death by kind-hearted American troops who found them wandering or lying abandoned on the streets of Seoul.

The soldiers had taken them to a child welfare center established by Lt. Col. R. L. Blaisdell of Hyfield, Minn., chaplain of the Fifth Air Force.

Scores of small pilgrims of distress were covered with sores and their bodies were still shrunken from starvation. Some gestured at their mouths to show their hunger and mumbled "chop chop." The planes carried a 15-day supply of rations but the children couldn't be fed until they were aloft.

Have 50 Diseases

"A hundred and two of them are ill—and 24 just got out of the hospital," said chaplain Blaisdell. "They have 50 diseases among them—everything from scabies to whooping cough and tuberculosis."

Eighty Korean women attendants accompanied the children and each plane carried a trained American evacuation nurse. Lt. Grace Chicken of Buffalo, Mo., volunteered to make the flight on her day off.

Capt. Mary Wilfong of Selma, Ala., who has evacuated many wounded troops, watched as one sick child was lifted into the plane

"Pitiful—they're so pitiful," she said. "It's even worse than seeing our own wounded men."

An emaciated small boy called down hopefully to Lt. Jane Murphy of Milton, Pa.:

"Hello, hello. You want good houseboy?"

Lieutenant Murphy smiled up at him and then turned her face away.

"It makes me want to cry," she said.

Most of the orphans were too weak to show much interest in their plane ride. Some cried bully, their thin wails all but lost in the noise of backing trucks. They shivered in thin worn clothing as volunteer American airmen gently lifted them bodily from truck to plane.

The orphans were loaded 70 to a plane.

New Rule for Buses

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Buses from New Jersey using the George Washington Bridge and the Holland Tunnel to New York will not be permitted to stop between 23rd street and 168th street starting Jan. 2. The order, issued yesterday by Taffic Commissioner Lloyd B. Reid, also said such buses will be re-routed in the midtown area to cut down congestion. Buses using the George Washington Bridge will be allowed only two stops for loading and unloading passengers—at the approach adjacent to Fort Washington avenue and at Broadway-West 168th street. Holland Tunnel buses will be permitted three stops—Seventh avenue-14th street, 23rd street-Seventh avenue and Varick-Grand streets. Lincoln Tunnel buses will not be affected by the order, Reid said.

Mitten Bites Him

Detroit, Dec. 21 (AP)—Policeman Frank Sargent, 34, laid his mitten on the ground last night while writing a ticket for illegal parking. When he put it back on, something bit him. A rat had crawled inside.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL — By CHARLES DICKENS

Scrooge bounded out of bed to the window. "What's today, my fine fellow?" he shouted to a boy in the street. "Today?" replied the boy. "Why, it's Christmas Day!"

Scrooge ordered the biggest turkey in history sent round to Bob Cratchit's House.

Meeting the two philanthropists, whom he had only yesterday pushed out of his office, Scrooge gave them a donation to charity that made their heads swim.

OFFICE CAT

(Trade Mark Reg.)

By Junius

Two Scotchmen met at a summer resort and after a few days, one noticed that the other seemed glum and out of sorts.

Sandy—What's a-troublin' ye, Jock? Ye seem so sad.

Jock—Aye, I am that. 'Tis enough to make one sad. I'm on my honeymoon and couldna afford to bring my wife.

Christmas Surprise

He innocently asks me if this year,
Like all the others, Santa will appear
To leave the things he wants beneath the tree,
And as he stands there looking up at me
And trying not to smile, I realize

—S. H. Dewhurst

"Christmas is the season of hope. The hope of tomorrow became the inspiration of mankind and with that hope man began to feel within himself the power to do, even though unrecognized and alone, he looked forward toward a better day to come. Today is redeemed by tomorrow's possibility for better things and that possibility is what makes life worth living to all of us, whether consciously or unconsciously. The lesson of Christmas is hope—and a part of hope is faith. It is faith that makes life worth living, because without faith there can be no real hope."

The Carlsbad Caverns

The Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico are estimated to be 200,000,000 years old and have not yet been completely explored. The deepest passage uncovered at present is 1150 feet under ground.

The shortest international street car line in the world runs from El Paso, Texas, to Juarez, Mexico.

According to the U. S. Bureau of Standards, mineral wool insulation in a house will hold back fire in an ordinary plaster wall at least an hour.

Store Stirs Dispute

Milan, (AP)—The construction of Europe's "most modern department store building" alongside Milan's famous cathedral del Duomo momentarily scandalized this land of architectural treasures. The controversy, raging from Milan street corners to the Italian Cabinet, is yet to be settled and may eventually reach the courts. All the fuss was caused by the clean lines of the leftwing of the new building only a few yards from the Gothic beauty of the cathedral on Milan's Piazza del Duomo.

Two Scotchmen met at a summer resort and after a few days, one noticed that the other seemed glum and out of sorts.

Sandy—What's a-troublin' ye, Jock? Ye seem so sad.

Jock—Aye, I am that. 'Tis enough to make one sad. I'm on my honeymoon and couldna afford to bring my wife.

Christmas Surprise

He innocently asks me if this year,
Like all the others, Santa will appear
To leave the things he wants beneath the tree,
And as he stands there looking up at me
And trying not to smile, I realize

—S. H. Dewhurst

"Christmas is the season of hope. The hope of tomorrow became the inspiration of mankind and with that hope man began to feel within himself the power to do, even though unrecognized and alone, he looked forward toward a better day to come. Today is redeemed by tomorrow's possibility for better things and that possibility is what makes life worth living to all of us, whether consciously or unconsciously. The lesson of Christmas is hope—and a part of hope is faith. It is faith that makes life worth living, because without faith there can be no real hope."

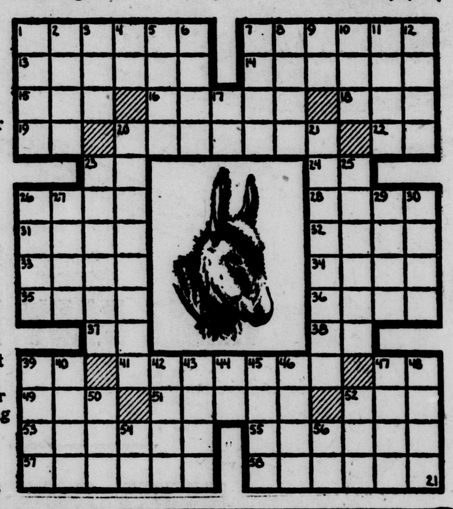
Answer to Previous Puzzle



SHOKAN

Shokan, Dec. 21—Christmas entertainments in the north reservoir country have been announced as follows: Shokan Reformed and West Hurley Methodist Churches, Wednesday; Ashokan Methodist Church, Friday, and in the Glenford church, Saturday. The exercises will all take place in the evening.

The house and garage built for George Hand on the eight-acre tract which the Woodstock milk distributor bought of Henry Gebelein last spring, have been completed, and work has begun on another garage on the same property. The dwelling, set well back from the Onteora Trail and adjoining the Oscar Schlerin place on the west, is an attractive looking building.

John Rutherford of the Tonche neighborhood has employment at the Pitcairn mountain place.

Grant Avery has been employed at the Wawarsing quarry where rip-rap for the Lackawack Dam is procured. There is still a lot of work to be done on the big waterworks project beyond the mountains.

Alva "Buddy" Buley, Jr., finished pouring concrete for his mountainside garage before the big snow and cold snap came on. Alva and Evelyn's new stone house overlooking the Ashokan is one of North Olive's residential showplaces.

Stove wood is becoming scarcer every day in these parts. One farmer who gets out a lot of it each winter, reported Monday that he "Just can't keep up with the demand for wood." Some of the sawmills are short of slab wood, too—not because they are not sawing much timber but rather on account of their heavy back-log of orders for good old hardwood fuel.

Legion Drive Slated

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—The American Legion announced today that its second annual drive to collect Christmas toys for children overseas will begin Dec. 26. The drive brought in 3,000,000 toys last year for European children. This year it will be enlarged to include the Philippine Islands and children of veterans fighting in Korea.

As Pegler Sees It

We see each night the silent brilliance of the stars with their promise of eternity; finding sleep in calm surety that no tyrant can shatter our rest by violent intrusions of our homes and seizures of our persons.

"Because of them, the fallen, we are the living. Because of them, the fallen, we are the free. Because of them we are now able to face the foul tyranny now enslaving half the world and say, clearly and without falter: 'That which was preserved for us by the blood of our brothers is God's gift to his sons. To fail freedom would be to deny Divine Grace; to betray our country and to foul the memories of our magnificent dead. Confronting the power your evil has assembled, we are unafraid. Freedom is of God and must endure. Tyranny and evil shall perish. . . .'

"The scowling, cynical intellectuals of the left — having cautiously evaded the tumult and the agony of battle — are our enemies no less than the booted hordes who have trampled down the ideals and the goodness of Christian civilization everywhere they have marched. In the service of hatred they have murdered love. And their agents are many among us. I quote from Archbishop Ireland's address on patriotism: 'This country is America: Only those who are loyal to her can be allowed to live under her flag; and they who are loyal to her may enjoy her liberties and rights. If that allegiance is not plenary and supreme, he is false to the profession of allegiance; if it is, he is an American.'

"Yes, we have a duty toward our traitors. In our hands is the bright sword of truth. It was put into our hands by those who died for truth. The blood of our heroic comrades has seeped into the earth of every continent and stained the waters of every sea. We are the guardians of a nationhood which has never taken up arms in aggression but only in defense.

"For life and death, for the body and the eternal soul, the war is upon us—the war forged by men who want for themselves the powers that belong to God alone.

"In the memory of that great and gallant army which poured out the rich, red wine of youth to keep us free, we pledge ourselves to be worthy of their sacrifices and to cherish the duty they so richly performed.

"May Almighty God bless our cause—and may he make us truly the sons of his freedom."

For those sentiments, Jim McGuiness was whispered out of the motion picture industry in his own country which he had served in France.

Changes Church

When in England, King George VI officially is an Episcopalian, but he officially is a Presbyterian when he crosses the river Tweed into Scotland, due to the fact that each country has its established church.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Dec. 21—Christmas entertainments in the north reservoir country have been announced as follows: Shokan Reformed and West Hurley Methodist Churches, Wednesday; Ashokan Methodist Church, Friday, and in the Glenford church, Saturday. The exercises will all take place in the evening.

The house and garage built for George Hand on the eight-acre tract which the Woodstock milk distributor bought of Henry Gebelein last spring, have been completed, and work has begun on another garage on the same property. The dwelling, set well back from the Onteora Trail and adjoining the Oscar Schlerin place on the west, is an attractive looking building.

John Rutherford of the Tonche neighborhood has employment at the Pitcairn mountain place.

Grant Avery has been employed at the Wawarsing quarry where rip-rap for the Lackawack Dam is procured. There is still a lot of work to be done on the big waterworks project beyond the mountains.

Alva "Buddy" Buley, Jr., finished pouring concrete for his mountainside garage before the big snow and cold snap came on. Alva and Evelyn's new stone house overlooking the Ashokan is one of North Olive's residential showplaces.

Stove wood is becoming scarcer every day in these parts. One farmer who gets out a lot of it each winter, reported Monday that he "Just can't keep up with the demand for wood." Some of the sawmills are short of slab wood, too—not because they are not sawing much timber but rather on account of their heavy back-log of orders for good old hardwood fuel.

Legion Drive Slated

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—The American Legion announced today that its second annual drive to collect Christmas toys for children overseas will begin Dec. 26. The drive brought in 3,000,000 toys last year for European children. This year it will be enlarged to include the Philippine Islands and children of veterans fighting in Korea.

As Pegler Sees It

We see each night the silent brilliance of the stars with their promise of eternity; finding sleep in calm surety that no tyrant can shatter our rest by violent intrusions of our homes and seizures of our persons.

"Because of them, the fallen, we are the living. Because of them, the fallen, we are the free. Because of them we are now able to face the foul tyranny now enslaving half the world and say, clearly and without falter: 'That which was preserved for us by the blood of our brothers is God's gift to his sons. To fail freedom would be to deny Divine Grace; to betray our country and to foul the memories of our magnificent dead. Confronting the power your evil has assembled, we are unafraid. Freedom is of God and must endure. Tyranny and evil shall perish. . . .'

"The scowling, cynical intellectuals of the left — having cautiously evaded the tumult and the agony of battle — are our enemies no less than the booted hordes who have trampled down the ideals and the goodness of Christian civilization everywhere they have marched. In the service of hatred they have murdered love. And their agents are many among us. I quote from Archbishop Ireland's address on patriotism: 'This country is America: Only those who are loyal to her can be allowed to live under her flag; and they who are loyal to her may enjoy her liberties and rights. If that allegiance is not plenary and supreme, he is false to the profession of allegiance; if it is, he is an American.'

"Yes, we have a duty toward our traitors. In our hands is the bright sword of truth. It was put into our hands by those who died for truth. The blood of our heroic comrades has seeped into the earth of every continent and stained the waters of every sea. We are the guardians of a nationhood which has never taken up arms in aggression but only in defense.

"For life and death, for the body and the eternal soul, the war is upon us—the war forged by men who want for themselves the powers that belong to God alone.

"In the memory of that great and gallant army which poured out the rich, red wine of youth to keep us free, we pledge ourselves to be worthy of their sacrifices and to cherish the duty they so richly performed.

"May Almighty God bless our cause—and may he make us truly the sons of his freedom."

For those sentiments, Jim McGuiness was whispered out of the motion picture industry in his own country which he had served in France.

Changes Church

When in England, King George VI officially is an Episcopalian, but he officially is a Presbyterian when he crosses the river Tweed into Scotland, due to the fact that each country has its established church.

Radio Employes Must Take Oath

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—All regular radio and television employes of the Columbia Broadcasting System must take loyalty oaths similar to those required of applicants for U. S. government civil service jobs.

The network, which revealed the requirement yesterday, also said it is establishing security measures to guard against sabotage.

There was no revelation of what CBS would do in the event an employe admitted present or former membership in a subversive organization, or refused to sign the oath.

The oath lists all organizations named by the U. S. attorney general as subversive, and requires each employe to state whether he is or has been a member of a Communist, Fascist or other subversive group.

Previously, the National Broadcasting Company had required new employes to make loyalty statements. But the CBS action was said to be the first of its kind by a major network.

The CBS requirement would not affect artists on the network who are hired by advertising agencies or producers.

CBS Executive Vice President Joseph H. Ream said the oath and sabotage-prevention measures were prompted by President Truman's declaration of a national emergency and by "the unique nature of broadcasting."

CBS will station armed guards at transmitters and in master control rooms.

Orchard Plan Dropped

Srinagar, Kashmir (AP) — The state government's plans for nationalizing orchards in Indian-held Kashmir have been postponed because of the financial drain involved in paying off the owners. The government is going ahead, however, with its program of breaking up large estates and distributing sections to the tillers.

Your Income Tax Primer

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
NEA Special Correspondent

Those increased 1950 taxes must be settled up by March 15. Everyone who had income of $600 or more in 1950 is required to file a return by that date.

But if you file early you save headaches and money. It gives you time to figure out the method which is easiest on your pocketbook. If you turn out to be one of the few taxpayers with complicated problems requiring professional help, the Collector of Internal Revenue, who can help you free, or hired experts, might not be available as March 15 approaches.

And taxpayers who have refunds coming and who file now can expect to get their refunds before March 15. If you wait until the deadline, it may be summer before you get a check back.

The third article of the Primer will explain in detail how to tell whether you had $600 taxable income and must file a return. If you are required to file a return, you must decide which tax form to use.

The vast majority of taxpayers are eligible to file on the simplest return, called Form 1040A, printed on yellow paper. If you use this form, you do not need to figure your own tax. From your answers to the questions, the Bureau will figure your tax and send you a bill or refund

The fifth article of this series will give a detailed explanation of who may use the simple Form 1040A and when it is wise to do so.

The other return is called Form 1040. It has four pages and is printed on white paper.

You are required to use Form 1040 if:

1. Your income, including your wife's if you file jointly, was as much as $5000; or if

2. Your income included anything, however little, that was not interest, dividends, or payments for personal services; or if

3. Your income included more than $100 on which tax was not withheld before you received it.

You must use this form, also, if you wish to itemize your own deductions (when they are greater than the standard deduction) or if you want to deduct the expenses of earning your income.

This is the first thing you see on the 1950 Form 1040 and is the same as the first part of the simple Form 1040A:

FORM 1040
U.S. Treasury Department

U. S. INDIVIDUAL INCOME TAX RETURN

For other taxable years ending after Sept. 30, 1950, but before Dec. 31, 1951, attach Form 1040FY

CALENDAR YEAR

EMPLOYEES: Instead of this form, you may use Form 1040A if your total income was less than $5,000, consisting wholly of wages shown on Forms W-2, or of such wages and not more than $100 of other wages, dividends, and interest.

In all but rare instances, which will be explained in the second article, it is advantageous for married couples to file a joint return. This is the only way they can save money by "splitting" their income.

If you are one of these couples, on the first line of the tax return you should type or print the names of both husband and wife (using the wife's own given name). Give the addresses of both, if you live apart, and give the occupations and social security numbers, if any.

Since married couples can file joint returns, it is important to know who is married in the eyes of the Bureau of Internal Revenue:

A couple remains married, whether or not living together, until one dies or until a court separates them formally.

A couple married any time before midnight of Dec. 31 was married, for tax purposes, throughout the year.

A couple legally separated any time before midnight of Dec. 31 was not married, for tax purposes, at any time during the year.

If a wife or husband died during the year, the survivor has not re-married, a joint return can be filed and income can be "split." If there is an administrator or executor he files for the dead spouse. If not, the survivor files for both.

Let's take an imaginary taxpayer, John Public and his wife Jane. They are eligible to file a joint return and do so by typing both names as shown above. In the articles that follow, we will fill out John and Jane Public's return with many more tax problems than the average person, just so you can see how it's done.

Nobody who received less than $600 is required to file an income tax return.

But anybody who earned something—less than $600—on which tax was withheld, should file a return in order to get back those withholdings. There is no other way for you to get them back.

Technically what you file is a claim for refund. But you use the same form—preferably 1040A—as for a regular return.

Tax Primer Q. and A.

Q. My wife and I are living apart. May we file a joint return?

A. Yes, so long as you have not been separated by court order. However, both of you must sign the return.

Q. My wife and I broke up in November, 1950, and in January, 1951, we were divorced. May we file a joint return?

A. Yes, because you were not legally separated or divorced in 1950. Keep in mind, however, that each must include his income in the joint return and each is liable for the whole tax.

Q. My husband died in January, 1950. May I file a joint return?

A. Yes, provided you did not re-marry in 1950. If you are re-married, then you can file a joint return with your present husband.

M.I.T. Gets Grant

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 21 (AP)—The Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, Inc., has given $5,250,000 to Massachusetts Institute of Technology to establish a school of industrial management. Dr. Karl T. Compton, chairman of the MIT Corporation, said plans for the new school would go forward "as rapidly as possible." The new school will be housed in the six-story former headquarters of Lever Brothers in Cambridge. Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., who has given MIT a total of $7,000,000 over the years, expressed hope the new school would place emphasis on the practical problems "that face the industrial executive in his executive capacity." Dr. James R. Killian, Jr., president of M.I.T., said research would be one of the "basic ingredients" of the new school's program.

Last of Hostile Troops

St. Lawrence to Accept Class January 31st

Canton, Dec. 21—St. Lawrence University will accept a freshman class of men and a limited number of women for admission to the university in the spring term beginning Jan. 31, 1951, President Eugene G. Bewkes announced today. A freshman class will also be accepted for admission to the regular summer session beginning on July 2, President Bewkes said.

Students attending a combination of the spring term and summer school may earn sufficient credit to permit them to continue as sophomores in the fall of 1951. Men entering in February will be eligible for enrollment in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps at St. Lawrence.

President Bewkes has indicated that the university is accepting students for admission in February and July in order to assist them to accelerate their college program.

Winter Tomorrow

Chicago, Dec. 21 (AP)—The winter season starts officially tomorrow—after more than a month of cold and wintry weather for most of the midwest and much of the east. There was a below freezing line today from the plains states to the New England region. There were a few sub-zero readings in the north central states. Light snow fell in North Dakota, Minnesota, the upper Great Lakes and the mountains of western Pennsylvania. There was rain near the central gulf coast and in southeastern Oklahoma. Light rain also fell in Washington but the rest of the country had fair weather.

Bring in Cease Fire

Lake Success, Dec. 21 (AP)—The United Nations has told the Chinese Communists chances for talks on a general Far Eastern settlement—desired by the Reds—would be improved if Peiping heeeded U.N. calls for a cease fire in Korea. In a second direct appeal to the Communist government, the three-man U.N. cease fire committee said a pending Asian-Arab proposal for such negotiations would receive greater U.N. consideration if the Korean fighting was halted. The second message, sent to Peiping Tuesday night, gave no promise that the Far Eastern talks would follow a cease fire. The United States strongly opposes linking the Korean fighting with such other Asian problems as Red China's demand for Formosa and for a seat in the United Nations.

St. Lawrence to Accept Class January 31st

Canton, Dec. 21—St. Lawrence University will accept a freshman class of men and a limited number of women for admission to the university in the spring term beginning Jan. 31, 1951, President Eugene G. Bewkes announced today. A freshman class will also be accepted for admission to the regular summer session beginning on July 2, President Bewkes said.

Students attending a combination of the spring term and summer school may earn sufficient credit to permit them to continue as sophomores in the fall of 1951. Men entering in February will be eligible for enrollment in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps at St. Lawrence.

President Bewkes has indicated that the university is accepting students for admission in February and July in order to assist them to accelerate their college program.

Winter Tomorrow

Chicago, Dec. 21 (AP)—The winter season starts officially tomorrow—after more than a month of cold and wintry weather for most of the midwest and much of the east. There was a below freezing line today from the plains states to the New England region. There were a few sub-zero readings in the north central states. Light snow fell in North Dakota, Minnesota, the upper Great Lakes and the mountains of western Pennsylvania. There was rain near the central gulf coast and in southeastern Oklahoma. Light rain also fell in Washington but the rest of the western half of the country had fair weather.

Bring in Cease Fire

Lake Success, Dec. 21 (AP)—The United Nations has told the Chinese Communists chances for talks on a general Far Eastern settlement—desired by the Reds—would be improved if Peiping heeeded U.N. calls for a cease fire in Korea. In a second direct appeal to the Communist government, the three-man U.N. cease fire committee said a pending Asian-Arab proposal for such negotiations would receive greater U.N. consideration if the Korean fighting was halted. The second message, sent to Peiping Tuesday night, gave no promise that the Far Eastern talks would follow a cease fire. The United States strongly opposes linking the Korean fighting with such other Asian problems as Red China's demand for Formosa and for a seat in the United Nations.

M.I.T. Gets Grant

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 21 (AP)—The Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, Inc., has given $5,250,000 to Massachusetts Institute of Technology to establish a school of industrial management. Dr. Karl T. Compton, chairman of the MIT Corporation, said plans for the new school would go forward "as rapidly as possible." The new school will be housed in the six-story former headquarters of Lever Brothers in Cambridge. Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., who has given MIT a total of $7,000,000 over the years, expressed hope the new school would place emphasis on the practical problems "that face the industrial executive in his executive capacity." Dr. James R. Killian, Jr., president of M.I.T., said research would be one of the "basic ingredients" of the new school's program.

EAT WELL for Less

IT'S PARTY TIME FOR TEEN-AGERS

SOFT DRINKS spark teen-age buffet on New Year's Eve.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Start the New Year off with a bang for your 'teen-agers and their friends. Lots to eat, an unlimited supply of chilled assorted carbonated beverages served right in the bottles and lots of fun for everybody—that's the 1951 recipe.

To solve the "big eats" problem economically but with a flourish that will delight the 'teen-age set, try this special recipe. It's a tangy, sweet-tart combination of meat, cheese and crisp green pepper, made with a carbonated beverage base.

Serve this Teentime Rabbit with an assortment of things to put it on in separate bowls, such as cooked rice garnished with pimiento, crisp cereal flakes, Chinese noodles and potato chips. Let the boys and girls mix some or all of these on their plates and top with the rabbit.

Teentime Rabbit
(Serves 4-6)

One 12-ounce can luncheon meat, 2 bottles cola carbonated beverages, ½ pound packaged processed American cheese, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, 2 teaspoons vinegar, 1 egg, slightly beaten, 1 green pepper, chopped.

Dice meat into ¼-inch cubes. Cover with contents of 1 bottle of the cola and let stand 1 hour, then drain. Slice cheese into top of double boiler. Heat over boiling water. When cheese has melted, stir in seasonings, vinegar, ¾ cup of freshly-opened cola beverage; blend, then stir in egg. Continue to cook and stir until thickened. Add meat and green pepper. Cover and keep warm over hot water until ready to serve.

Double the recipe, if the party has hearty eaters, or is more than six. For fancier fare, ham, cut in cubes, may be used in place of the luncheon meat; but give it the same cola-marinating treatment.

Savory Celery

Blend together equal amounts of cream cheese, mashed liverwurst and a little minced onion; moisten to paste consistency with milk or cream. Stuff celery stalks with mixture; chill before serving.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, scrambled eggs, halfbran muffins, butter or fortified margarine, strawberry jam, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Casserole of dried lima beans, cheese and tomato sauce, wholewheat bread, butter or fortified margarine, sliced oranges and bananas, cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Tuna and green pepper ring, horseradish and paprika cream sauce, steamed rice, canned peas, rye bread, butter or fortified margarine, raw carrot sticks and celery, apple pie, cheese, coffee, milk.

Moscow Accuses U. S.

Moscow, Dec. 21 (AP)—The Soviet press today accused the United Nations of suppressing a documentary film about peace. The Soviet news agency Tass said U.N. authorities banned the motion picture "Peace Must Come" after trying to edit the film into a "reactionary" document.

Honeymooning Today

Tucson, Ariz., Dec. 21 (AP)—"Somewhere in Arizona" British movie stars Jean Simmons and Stewart Granger are honeymooning today. They were married here last night in a quiet ceremony at a private home, then departed on a motor tour of the state. They are expected to return to Hollywood about Jan. 1.

Democrats Blame Crisis on Leader

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—The Affiliated Young Democrats of New York State—hitting at "controlled conventions"—urged last night that candidates for governor and other top state offices be nominated by party voters in direct primaries.

The Young Democrats' legislative committee's statement declared:

"Few of the candidates nominated at such conventions in recent years would have been nominated by party primaries of either party. To us, such a system is not in accord with our concept of the democratic way of life."

In addition to governor, the committee's proposal would affect the offices of lieutenant governor, comptroller, attorney general and U. S. senator.

The Affiliated Young Democrats—an unofficial party organization—said the party in the state has reached a critical point, and charged that the "present crisis derives from eight years of lack of leadership."

"In those years," the committee said, "the nominal leadership of the party has been permitted to drift without a constructive program of the sort which gave the people of our state good government and social progress in the historic (gubernatorial) administrations of Alfred E. Smith, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Herbert H. Lehman.

"For eight successive legislative sessions the present Democratic state chairman (Paul E. Fitzpatrick) has come to Albany and, in the role of a shadow governor, has steered the Democratic Party into its present state of dissension, defeat and disillusionment."

The committee said the Affiliated Young Democrats' 1951 legislative program would include, among other things, extension of unemployment insurance, voting rights for 18-year-olds, increased state financial aid to municipalities, more money for public schools, and permanent voting registration.

Wrecked Plane Sighted

Manila, Dec. 21 (AP)—The partly burned wreckage of a U. S. C-54 military transport was sighted by search planes today near the top of a 9,324-foot mountain 140 miles northeast of Manila. There was no sign of life. The four-engine plane struck Mount Taboyoc en route Tuesday from Okinawa to Clark Air Base, 60 miles north of Manila. It carried 30 military personnel and a crew of seven. The C-54 was last heard asking for weather reports when within 30 minues' flying time of Clark Field. The crash scene was so remote that a ground team may require several days to reach it. Names of those aboard the wrecked plane were withheld.

IN COUNTY GRANGES

Christmas spirit is in the air, together with all the snowy whiteness that goes with it, in spite of the troubled times that beset us. Thoughts of all of us go far toward the east, where once some wise men gazed at a star. Today our minds are disturbed by events in that direction, and our hearts are full of pride in our men who are out there. We wish them safety and courage and a speedy return. We could have no finer Christmas gift than that.

We trust that wisdom will prevail in our international diplomacy to the end that all the world can come closer to "peace on earth, good will toward all men."

Juvenile Grange Program for the coming year as outlined by state superintendent Ruth B. Thew, promises to be one of the most ambitious ever undertaken. With a splendid record of achievement in the past, with our juvenile program attracting envious comment from other states, it is certain that a bright year looms in 1951, if the expressed enthusiasm of the Juvenile Deputies at the recent "school" in Ithaca is any indication.

Two important projects that our younger Grange members will share with their adults are participation in the Goss Memorial membership drive and the 1951 Farm Project of "Homestead and Grange Hall Improvement." A percentage gain in membership will be the goal of many Juvenile Granges, while their will be concentrated efforts to establish more younger Granges, by juvenile matrons or committee members in the various subordinates which are now without such a group. At the same time the littler folks will cooperate with lecturers' and service and hospitality committees in promoting landscaping projects at home and at Grange halls. In addition, the Juvenile Deputies Association will sponsor wild flower mounting and soap carving for tiny fingers.

All of which tends to bring the Grange family in closer with themselves and the organization in an interesting, cooperative effort.

In error last week we said here that Mrs. Bruce Scudder would be the 1951 Service and Hospitality chairman. We knew better than that, it is Mrs. Herbert J. Thomsen of Poughkeepsie. Hope our remark caused no confusion.

Says Vogeler Held In Cellar Jail

New York, Dec. 21 (AP) — An American Broadcasting Company (ABC) correspondent reported last night that Robert Vogeler, imprisoned as a spy by Hungary's Communist regime, is being held in solitary confinement in a Budapest jail for political prisoners.

The jail, the report added, adjoins a Russian military headquarters.

The broadcast from Rome, by Walter Weisbecker, quoted an Italian citizen the correspondent said had been released from the same prison a few weeks ago.

Vogeler, 39-year-old executive of the International Telephone and Telegraph Co., was sentenced to 15 years in prison last February after conviction on charges of spying and sabotage. Secret negotiations for his release so far have been unsuccessful.

Weisbecker said his informant told him Vogeler was confined underground in a lighted cell in which the heat was turned on only half an hour daily—when the temperature falls below freezing.

He is permitted no correspondence, no visitors, no personal belongings and is not allowed to work.

The American businessman, the report continued, has been questioned frequently and is suffering considerable mental strain.

The prison, the informant added, once held Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, sentenced to life imprisonment in Feb., 1940, on treason charges.

Women Out of Jail

Detroit, Dec. 21 (AP)—Three women, who were serving life sentences for their part in the slaying of a nephew of a Supreme Court justice, are outside prison walls today. The women — Jean Miller, Florence Jackson and Loretta Jackson—were released from the Detroit House of Correction yesterday after their sentences had been commuted by Gov. G. Mennen Williams. They served 15 years. They were sentenced in 1935 when Attorney Howard Carter Dickinson, of New York, nephew of the late U. S. Supreme Court Justice Charles Evans Hughes, was shot to death after the women lured him into a taxicab. The cab driver, William Schweltzer, is serving life. The Jackson sisters plan to open a tea room in their father's home.

or 10 other cities in the next two months in its investigation of nationwide crime tieups.

Kefauver said that "some of the evidence produced at the Chicago hearing "should be sufficient for local authorities to begin investigations of their own."

State's Attorney John S. Boyle and Police Commissioner Timothy O'Connor, who sat in on the hearings, said they had started the "full scale" probe of the policy operations as disclosed by witnesses.

"This is the first break we've had—it's our first chance at the higher ups," Boyle said.

Testimony disclosed that the several policy wheels raked in some $60,000,000 a year in bets ranging from a nickel up.

Two of the witnesses held in jail are the policy kings of the south side Negro district. They are Edward Jones, 53, and Theodore Roe, who are in partnership with three others in one of the city's biggest policy operations.

Police also seized two policy wheel operators, Patrick Manno and Pete C. Tremont, after they refused to testify before the committee. Like O'Hara, they contended their answers might tend to incriminate them.

Later, police took into custody Ralph (Bottles) Capone, a brother of the late notorious Scarface Al. Ralph now operates a resort in Wisconsin. He also had refused to answer all the committee's questions. All five were held without charge. Roe and Jones are seeking their release on writs of habeas corpus.

"Please make a few comments on South's bidding," requests a Boston reader. "As you know, this is a very staid and polite city. I could not possibly say what I think of South's bidding, but perhaps you—as a Texan—will be less inhibited.

"West opened the jack of spades, dummy covered with the king, and East won with the ace. East laid down the ace of diamonds, cashed the queen of spades, and gave his partner a spade ruff. West obediently cashed the king of diamonds and gave his partner a diamond ruff.

"East next turned his attention to the hearts, leading low to West's ace. West returned a heart to East's king, thus stripping South's hand of everything but the trumps. When East now led a spade through, West was sure of two more trump tricks. South ruffed with the queen, but West carefully refused to overruff.

"South, my partner (as you may have guessed), cheerfully observed that we were not vulnerable. This was small consolation, since the opponents had scored 900 points on a hand which they might not have bid to game. Even if they had bid game, they might not have made it. Even had they made game, it would have been worth only about half as many points.

"Will you take over now?"

My Boston friend is behind the times. It's a good many years since we shot a bridge player for making a horrible bid like that overcall of South's. I would say the odds are about even that South could make that same kind of bid in Texas and live to tell the tale.

There is, of course, no possible excuse for such a bid. With average luck, South can expect to win about four tricks. Why should he make a bid that calls for eight tricks? South has no reason to feel that he is indicating a favorable lead. With both red queens in his hand, he should be perfectly willing for North to make a normal opening lead if West plays the hand at no-trump.

There is some point in making a dangerous overcall to indicate the only possible favorable lead; or if there is some good prospect of making a game; or even if the opponents are very timid about doubling for penalties. In this case, South's bid did not indicate a good lead, there was no possible prospect of game unless North had a hand that was good enough for a bid of his own, and it is perfectly clear that West was not a bit timid about doubling.

Hotel Is Upheld

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—A State Supreme Court justice ruled yesterday that a Bronx hotel had the right to cancel a reservation for a meeting at which Paul Robeson was to receive a peace award. The American Labor Party, sponsor of the gathering, then shifted the affair to another hall last night.

Gratefully yours,

States His Objection

Pultneyville, N. Y., Dec. 21 (AP)—A professed atheist says he has no more objection to the depiction in school pageants of the birth of Christ "than I would to the staging of a scene from Macbeth." His objection, said Arthur G. Cromwell last night, is to pageants that have "religious emotionalism" as their intent. Cromwell stressed this point in talking with a newsman after witnessing the annual open house and Christmas pageant at the central school in nearby Williamson. He said he would file a formal protest before the end of the week with the State Department of Education, asking that pageants with a religious emotional impact be banned from public schools. "As far as I am concerned," he declared, "this is not a fight between atheism and Christianity, but rather between church and state."

"Please make a few comments on South's bidding," requests a Boston reader. "As you know, this is a very staid and polite city. I could not possibly say what I think of South's bidding, but perhaps you—as a Texan—will be less inhibited.

"West opened the jack of spades, dummy covered with the king, and East won with the ace. East laid down the ace of diamonds, cashed the queen of spades, and gave his partner a spade ruff. West obediently cashed the king of diamonds and gave his partner a diamond ruff.

"East next turned his attention to the hearts, leading low to West's ace. West returned a heart to East's king, thus stripping South's hand of everything but the trumps. When East now led a spade through, West was sure of two more trump tricks. South ruffed with the queen, but West carefully refused to overruff.

"South, my partner (as you may have guessed), cheerfully observed that we were not vulnerable. This was small consolation, since the opponents had scored 900 points on a hand which they might not have bid to game. Even if they had bid game, they might not have made it. Even had they made game, it would have been worth only about half as many points.

"Will you take over now?"

My Boston friend is behind the times. It's a good many years since we shot a bridge player for making a horrible bid like that overcall of South's. I would say the odds are about even that South could make that same kind of bid in Texas and live to tell the tale.

There is, of course, no possible excuse for such a bid. With average luck, South can expect to win about four tricks. Why should he make a bid that calls for eight tricks? South has no reason to feel that he is indicating a favorable lead. With both red queens in his hand, he should be perfectly willing for North to make a normal opening lead if West plays the hand at no-trump.

There is some point in making a dangerous overcall to indicate the only possible favorable lead; or if there is some good prospect of making a game; or even if the opponents are very timid about doubling for penalties. In this case, South's bid did not indicate a good lead, there was no possible prospect of game unless North had a hand that was good enough for a bid of his own, and it is perfectly clear that West was not a bit timid about doubling.

Hotel Is Upheld

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—A State Supreme Court justice ruled yesterday that a Bronx hotel had the right to cancel a reservation for a meeting at which Paul Robeson was to receive a peace award. The American Labor Party, sponsor of the gathering, then shifted the affair to another hall last night.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

On invitation from Mrs. Lucinda Krum, age 90, went to visit her at the Home for the Aged on Washington avenue. Not having met her before, only through correspondence, I found no one who looked 90. When finally Mrs. Krum was brought over to me, I am sure she read the astonishment in my eyes. She doesn't look a day over 60, and I mean a young 60. She is joyous, lively, a fast walker and talker, perfect hearing and believe me I bet she could withstand Christmas shopping much better than some teenagers. She took me around to see the cozy dining room, and introduced me to the wonderful Stuart Parks, Sr., who run the home. The whole atmosphere, is not hush-hush you would expect in a home for the aged, but it is a hub of gaiety. I had to promise to come again, at which time will bring along some pictures of old Kingston.

Leo Miles of 26 O'Neil street who works at Mohicans sent me the following item, "Exhibition and Lecture." Giving 200 Grand Views of the buildings and scenes of the World's Fair. Professor James E. Cole with his latest improved lantern will show at the Ostrander House on Friday evening, March 30, 1894. An enjoyable evening is guaranteed. Admission 10 cents."

I take it that this covered the World's Columbian Exposition of 1893 of Chicago of which I have a handsome illustrated book. The buildings shown are substantial, so I wonder if they are still standing. Looking back the 57 years and quoting in part from Editor Henry Watterson's dedication speech of the Fair, he says in part of Columbus after whom the Fair was named: "Two products of the southern continent which Columbus touched and brought into the world's economy, far beyond what the imagined wealth of the Indies could buy. The Potato, brought by the Spaniards from what is now the Republic of Ecuador, in the beginning of the century following the Discovery, has proved next to the principal cereals to be the most valuable of all plants for human food. It has sensibly increased the wealth of nations and added immeasurably to the welfare of the people. More certain than any other crop, and having little to fear from storm or drouth, it has hailed as an effectual barrier against the recurrence of famines."

"Another product was Peruvian bark from a tree of spontaneous growth in Peru, and other South American countries. It receives its botanical name from the wife of a Spanish viceroy who recovered from intermittent fever by its use. Its most important base, quinine, known to all of us. So important, that no vessel would dare approach the coast of Africa without it.

Toward the end of his speech he says: "We are near beginning of another century and if no serious change occurs in our present growth, in 1935, the English speaking Republics of America will number more than 180 million. And for them, John Bright, eloquently predicts, one people, one language, one law and one faith, and all over the wide continent, the home of freedom and a refuge for the oppressed of every race and clime." So the World's Columbian Exposition was dedicated to world's progress in art, science, agriculture, manufactures and to humanity.

Niagara Hudson Ends

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 21 (AP)—The Niagara Hudson Power Corporation goes out of existence today. A certificate of dissolution to be filed in the secretary of state's office will mark the formal end of the holding company that comprised 59 firms when it was organized in 1929. Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation, with four subsidiaries, was organized a year ago to serve the upstate area formerly supplied by the individual companies of the Niagara Hudson system.

Holiday Message to Forces

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—President Truman's holiday message to members of the armed forces says their mission "is to strengthen and to give hope to all who seek peace on earth." The brief message, released last night, concludes: "May the real spirit of Christmas abide with you, and may all of us, in concert with all free peoples, come nearer in the New Year to realizing man's ultimate dream of liberty, justice and freedom."

Toward the end of his speech he says: "We are near beginning of another century and if no serious change occurs in our present growth, in 1935, the English speaking Republics of America will number more than 180 million. And for them, John Bright, eloquently predicts, one people, one language, one law and one faith, and all over the wide continent, the home of freedom and a refuge for the oppressed of every race and clime." So the World's Columbian Exposition was dedicated to world's progress in art, science, agriculture, manufactures and to humanity.

Niagara Hudson Ends

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 21 (AP)—The Niagara Hudson Power Corporation goes out of existence today. A certificate of dissolution to be filed in the secretary of state's office will mark the formal end of the holding company that comprised 59 firms when it was organized in 1929. Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation, with four subsidiaries, was organized a year ago to serve the upstate area formerly supplied by the individual companies of the Niagara Hudson system.

Holiday Message to Forces

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—President Truman's holiday message to members of the armed forces says their mission "is to strengthen and to give hope to all who seek peace on earth." The brief message, released last night, concludes: "May the real spirit of Christmas abide with you, and may all of us, in concert with all free peoples, come nearer in the New Year to realizing man's ultimate dream of liberty, justice and freedom."

Held as Dope Peddler

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—A young man who wanted to own a fancy automobile was named by police today as a dope peddler to Bronx high school students. He was lured into a police trap last night. The youth, 17-year-old Felix Carmona, of (815 East 166th street) the Bronx, was arrested after a woman detective, Lorette McDonnell, telephoned him, pretending to be a ten-age dope addict. She persuaded him to meet her on a street corner, where Carmona was seized, police said he had an eight-ounce packet of heroin with him. Ten packages of the drug and 19 capsules were found in his rooms. In the police lineup, Carmona said he quit school two months ago and had since been making about $50 a day selling dope. He said he was saving his money to buy a Cadillac "because the big shots up here drive Cadillacs. The youth, described as a "high school distributor," was held for a court arraignment.

Traffic Signs

Recent orders by the New York State Traffic Commission included two in Ulster county, Clifford J. Fletcher, chairman of the commission announced today. At Rifton the commission ordered the erection of school crossing signs on Route 213 in advance of Maple street, and in the town of Saugerties it ordered the erection of stop-signs on the High Woods road (Glasco Turpike) at its intersection with Route 212.

Elders Get Break In Job Placement

Albany, Dec. 21 — Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi announced today an increased job placement in November of older workers as the result of the tightening manpower situation and special efforts of the New York State Employment Service.

Nearly one out of every five non-farm jobs filled went to a worker over 45, a peak for 1950, he said.

Curtailed hiring in contract construction upstate, apparel manufacturing in New York, and the durable goods industries statewide, accounted for the 14 per cent drop from 68,700 non-farm placements in October to 59,000 last month. These industries, however, recruited more workers through the employment service this November than last, he said.

Total non-farm placements in jobs lasting four or more days in Kingston were 191 in November, as compared with 116 in November, 1949. Of these regular jobs, 78 were filled in manufacturing industries. In addition, there were 16 non-farm short-time placements, as against 5 in November last year. Farm jobs filled totalled 49 of which 36 were of a seasonal nature.

Girl Scout Drive Ends With $5,294

Mrs. Everett Coty, Ulster County Girl Scout commissioner, announced today that the council fund raising drive officially closed December 15 with a total of $5,294.12 collected.

Dr. John A. Cooke, Jr., chairman of the Kingston drive, reported $3,212 was collected in the city.

In announcing the drive total, Mrs. Coty expressed thanks to the individual solicitors who conducted the house to house canvass as well as to the other interested workers who assisted. Special appreciation was also expressed for the support of the public who contributed.

Persons who were not contacted and who wish to contribute may send their contributions to the Girl Scout headquarters, 292 Fair street.

Final Report Expected Today in Bullard Death

An autopsy report is expected late today in the death of Mrs. Marion Bullard, 72, whose clothed body was found Monday evening in a water-filled bathtub in her Woodstock home.

The cause of death, according to Coroner Michael A. Galietta, was concussion, shock and second degree burns about the head and upper trunk. The autopsy is expected to show what caused the woman to fall, backwards, into the tub of scalding-hot water.

There is no evidence of foul play, troopers reported. At the present time, death appears to be accidental, Coroner Galietta said today, although a final verdict has not been issued and the case is still open.

Investigation was conducted by State Police B.C.I., District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn and the coroner. The autopsy was performed by Dr. Herbert Derman and Dr. Hans Cohn.

Plunges to Death

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—A 35-year-old woman plunged 40 feet to her death today from a bridge over the Independent Division Subway yard at 200th street and Jerome avenue, the Bronx. Police said she had a driver's license with the name, Mrs. Myrtle A. Gunn, of 3001 Henry Hudson Parkway, the Bronx. Neighbors said Mrs. Gunn was divorced from George P. Gunn, radio announcer. The woman drove to the bridge, which connects Reservoir Oval and Jerome avenue, left her coat and pocketbook in the car and jumped or fell over a railing to the yard, police said.

Korean refugees from the Hamhung and Hungnam areas board an LST manned by South Korean navy at the Hungnam beachhead port, Dec. 17. Home for Christmas

Pfc. Mike Ropczynski, 19, Long Beach, Calif., soldier arrived home for Christmas but he only could look on as the family tree was being decorated. Mike lost both arms in Korea at the battle of "Bugle Hill." His brother, Gerald, 18, also came home the same day. He was wounded in the left arm while fighting in Korea. (AP Wirephoto).

Smith, Deputies

captured last Friday night at a Madison, Wisc., clothing store where he was employed as a salesman. F.B.I. agents and Madison police made the arrest.

During his time at large, Guralnick was termed by the F.B.I. as one of the nation's "10 most-wanted men." Considered dangerous, authorities reported he put up a fight during his original arrest in New York on the first assault charge and during his re-capture in Wisconsin last week. He and four other men engineered a break from Ulster county jail in 1948 during which pieces of torn-up plumbing were used to bludgeon two prison guards, according to assault charges filed against him.

With Guralnick and the U. S. marshal on the train returning him to New York are Sheriff Smith, County Investigator Clayton Vredenburg and Jailor Arthur Brown. The sheriff's office reported this morning that the three members of that department have been deputized as U. S. marshals, giving them authority as guards during the trip.

Senate Approval

for the Atomic Energy Commission while the Senate group raised this to $1,080,000,000.

Also added were multi-million dollar items to build 50 fast cargo ships instead of the 16 voted by the House, additional funds for the Tennessee Valley Authority, and additional aircraft research.

Only one big cut was made by the Senate committee. This was elimination of a $1,850,000 fund for the Southeastern Power Administration.

The House approved this when told it would be used to build electric power transmission facilities to Langley Field, Va., for research on supersonic speed aircraft.

The Senate committee said that a private utility company in that area should build this line.

One New Provision

The committee also agreed to offer one new provision on the Senate floor—a proposal to let President Truman divert up to $112,000,000 of Marshall Plan funds for aid "in the China area."

Senator Knowland (R-Calif) said ECA Administrator William Foster suggested this move because existing funds for economic aid—which have amounted to $400,000,000 in the past two years—are about gone.

In the House, President Truman's defense powers bill—held up yesterday by G.O.P. strategists—was made the first order of business today.

The House bill revives two key sections of the War Powers Act of 1941. These would give Mr. Truman blanket authority to (1) reshuffle the government agency structure, and (2) modify defense contracts to the extent necessary to keep critical supplies moving.

The Senate-Exclusive Expenditures Committee yesterday shelved, until tomorrow at least, the first of these proposals while approving the second for floor consideration.

Says Church Enemy

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Dec. 21 (AP)—The chairman of Yugoslavia's Communist organization, People's Youth of Yugoslavia, attacked the church today as one of the major enemies of young people. The government of Premier Marshal Tito has been soft-pedalling public attacks on the church in favor of appeals for national unity to fight off the effects of a severe drouth. Youth Chairman Milijan Neoricic made the anti-religion address to his central committee. He listed the enemies of youth in this order: The Cominform, the church, bourgeois reaction, petty bourgeois attitude.

Filmed Fight

First prize fight ever filmed by a movie camera for general display to the public was the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight at Carson City, Nev., in 1897.

B.P.W. Proposal

are paid $1.15 an hour, those in the county get $1.40.

Says He Speaks for All

Yerry said that the group for which he spoke was largely composed of B.P.W. employes, but he was speaking for all city employes. He said he felt the five per cent bonus proposed was "ridiculous," in the face of current living costs plus a three per cent withholding tax. This applied to the 91 cents an hour for a B.P.W. laborer, he said, amounts to a slight pay boost.

All the city did in 1949, he charged, was "to freeze the bonus of 1948, and in 1950 the city did nothing." Prices all along the line have gone up, he said, and the added cost of living includes the increased fees of such professional men as doctors and lawyers.

The board's move for the $200 bonus for its employes is to be considered by the mayor in his preparing of the budget. Other departments made recommendations for increases far beyond the five per cent across-the-board proposal.

The meeting called for 2:30 p. m., lasted until nearly 6 p. m., and most of the time was spent in executive session.

Full Board Attends

The full board attended the session: Mayor Newkirk as president, and Commissioners Joseph E. Honig, Raymond L. Whitbeck, Charles O. Davis, and Kenneth Hyatt.

The board renewed its contracts with Albert Appa and Francis Fitzgerald of Kingston, and Charles Sarbello of Port Ewen, for the collection of garbage. The contract was the same as last year with a five per cent bonus allowed for wages.

Employment of Alfred P. Marquart, 72 Crane street, as engineering aide, grade 2, at a salary of $2,300 was approved.

Referred to Committee

A recommendation by Second Ward Alderman Benjamin Storms for more lights in the Roosevelt Park area, was referred to the lighting committee. In the alderman's opinion additional lights are needed on Harding and Madison avenues, Wrentham street and York Place, and he asked the board to consider a light on Smith avenue between O'Neil and Ardsley streets.

The board voted to include Douglas Mathers, Charles Neff and Angelo Corrado on the list of available referees for the M.J.M. Basketball League, which, as explained by Andrew J. Murphy, 3rd, head of the recreation department, "caters nightly to male youths under 17 years old." The regular referees, C. Miller and A. Gruner, will not be able to attend on certain nights, Murphy's letter said. The referees are hired by the night and the new names on the list will mean no extra cost to the department.

When a tidal wave swept over Port Royal, Jamaica, in 1692, people said it was retribution for the pirate lair's sins.

The latter two were members of the board which the Fulbright committee assailed for loans to Lustron Corp., an Ohio prefabricated housing firm; the Waltham Watch Co.; Kaiser-Frazer Corp., and Tex-Mass Corporation, a New England-Texas firm operating in oil.

Since then the new board has drawn fresh congressional criticism for granting Kaiser-Frazer a new $25,000,000 loan.

Elders Get Break In Job Placement

Albany, Dec. 21 — Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi announced today an increased job placement in November of older workers as the result of the tightening manpower situation and special efforts of the New York State Employment Service.

Nearly one out of every five non-farm jobs filled went to a worker over 45, a peak for 1950, he said.

Curtailed hiring in contract construction upstate, apparel manufacturing in New York, and the durable goods industries statewide, accounted for the 14 per cent drop from 68,700 non-farm placements in October to 59,000 last month. These industries, however, recruited more workers through the employment service this November than last, he said.

Total non-farm placements in jobs lasting four or more days in Kingston were 191 in November, as compared with 116 in November, 1949. Of these regular jobs, 78 were filled in manufacturing industries. In addition, there were 16 non-farm short-time placements, as against 5 in November last year. Farm jobs filled totalled 49 of which 36 were of a seasonal nature.

Girl Scout Drive Ends With $5,294

Mrs. Everett Coty, Ulster County Girl Scout commissioner, announced today that the council fund raising drive officially closed December 15 with a total of $5,294.12 collected.

Dr. John A. Cooke, Jr., chairman of the Kingston drive, reported $3,212 was collected in the city.

The drive was conducted to obtain funds for maintenance of Girl Scouting in this area.

In announcing the drive total, Mrs. Coty expressed thanks to the individual solicitors who conducted the house to house canvass as well as to the other interested workers who assisted. Special appreciation was also expressed for the support of the public who contributed.

Persons who were not contacted and who wish to contribute may send their contributions to the Girl Scout headquarters, 292 Fair street.

Final Report Expected Today in Bullard Death

An autopsy report is expected late today in the death of Mrs. Marion Bullard, 72, whose clothed body was found Monday evening in a water-filled bathtub in her Woodstock home.

The cause of death, according to Coroner Michael A. Galietta, was concussion, shock and second degree burns about the head and upper trunk. The autopsy is expected to show what caused the woman to fall, backwards, into the tub of scalding-hot water.

There is no evidence of foul play, troopers reported. At the present time, death appears to be accidental, Coroner Galietta said today, although a final verdict has not been issued and the case is still open.

Investigation was conducted by State Police B.C.I., District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn and the coroner. The autopsy was performed by Dr. Herbert Derman and Dr. Hans Cohn.

Plunges to Death

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—A 35-year-old woman plunged 40 feet to her death today from a bridge over the Independent Division Subway yard at 200th street and Jerome avenue, the Bronx. Police said she had a driver's license with the name, Mrs. Myrtle A. Gunn, of 3001 Henry Hudson Parkway, the Bronx. Neighbors said Mrs. Gunn was divorced from George P. Gunn, radio announcer. The woman drove to the bridge, which connects Reservoir Oval and Jerome avenue, left her coat and pocketbook in the car and jumped or fell over a railing to the yard, police said.

Smith, Deputies

captured last Friday night at a Madison, Wisc., clothing store where he was employed as a salesman. F.B.I. agents and Madison police made the arrest.

During his time at large, Guralnick was termed by the F.B.I. as one of the nation's "10 most-wanted men." Considered dangerous, authorities reported he put up a fight during his original arrest in New York on the first assault charge and during his re-capture in Wisconsin last week. He and four other men engineered a break from Ulster county jail in 1948 during which pieces of torn-up plumbing were used to bludgeon two prison guards, according to assault charges filed against him.

With Guralnick and the U. S. marshal on the train returning him to New York are Sheriff Smith, County Investigator Clayton Vredenburg and Jailor Arthur Brown. The sheriff's office reported this morning that the three members of that department have been deputized as U. S. marshals, giving them authority as guards during the trip.

Blood Bank Gets 500 Pints; Will Be Continued in 1951

A report of the blood bank sponsored by the Health Division of the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies was given by Mrs. Allan Hanstein, chairman, at the annual meeting held earlier this month and it was voted to continue this program another year. During the past year between 400 and 500 pints of blood have been brought in.

Mrs. Hanstein was given a vote of thanks by the Health Division for the splendid work which she and her committee has done in the organizational project.

A committee was appointed by Mrs. Frederic W. Holcomb, chairman, to contact Dr. Herbert Derman, director of the Kingston Laboratory, and this committee has offered these services which were initiated about a year ago to the laboratory. The program was initiated at the suggestion of Dr. J. S. Taylor, then director of the Kingston Laboratory, and it has been now placed at the disposal of the new director and his staff.

Keeps Bank Operating

This group not only clears the files, secures names of blood donors but acts to keep the flow of blood to the bank coming in. During the past year, Mrs. Hanstein reported, her committee had brought the files up to date and had assisted in creating a steady, even flow of blood into the city laboratory.

Mrs. Hanstein reported the job had progressed over the past few months through the excellence of the work of her committee members, but was not entirely completed for many people on the list who were called asked to be recalled. The list of names contained about eight thousand people in the county.

Praises Committee

In reporting on the progress of the work, Mrs. Hanstein paid tribute to Mrs. John W. Matthews, Mrs. John B. Roberts and Mrs. Lambert Hanstein who have been the committee for records.

Continuing her report she said: "Miss Gay Chambers, Mrs. Myron Teller, Mrs. Howard Shurter and Mrs. George Silkworth have worked through all the months with Mrs. James Abernethy, Mrs. Robert O'Reilly, Mrs. Charles Tappen, Mrs. Lowell Rutherford, Mrs. George Chilson, Mrs. William Anderson Carl, and Mrs. Roger Baer assisting as time and detail demanded, to do this terrific task of telephoning. Seldom, if ever, does one get an immediate yes or no. Therefore, we believe that each name represents an average of at least three calls. You count and see how much work that has meant.

"Two thousand and twenty-seven names have been taken from the files, carefully wrapped and marked deceased, moved away, came from a distance out of the county to give only for a friend or relative, become overage, or quite definitely did not care to give again.

"Eight hundred fifty names have been taken from the files, carefully wrapped and marked: called three times, not responsive, cards sent.

Still Calling Prospects

Five hundred thirty-five names are still in action—people who said (after being called so many times) "not today," "call me in one to three months, then I will." These we are still calling again.

"Sixteen hundred ninety-one names from the county are still being worked upon.

"This represents well over five thousand names. Remember, each with an average of three calls per name.

"This is the organization in the city. But when we went into the county, they had a very different angle on the whole project. If they gave blood and then someone in their community needed blood, where would they get replacements. We felt their question was a very right one and so we developed a bank credit—a credit good for six months. Any township which can get ten donors together at one time in one place where there is running water and two cots will have a representative from the laboratory come to it, take the blood and give credit of one-half the blood taken to that township for a period of six months. This has worked very well in many communities, larger ones giving every three months to have a constant credit of ten pints of blood. Others give every six months with a standing credit of five pints. Committees have worked long and hard, brought the cards from their locale up-to-date and find themselves in the enviable position of being prepared to help a neighbor. It has meant much telephoning—much work to find the right leaders and the right organization to sponsor the work. It has meant going out into the county to work out details with leaders and returning to speak at group meetings and answer questions. I have spoken at the Kingston Lions Club, on the radio for the health division, and made many trips to communities throughout the county. The Grange, Ladies' Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, certain Masonic groups, and individuals have sponsored this work throughout the townships of Lloyd, Saugerties, Woodstock, Hurley, Marbletown, New Paltz, Ulster, Esopus, Wawarsing and Olive.

"The leaders who have given of their time and energy are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Downs, Mrs. R. C. Gendreau, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ahlberg, Mrs. Isaac Graham, Mrs. Walter Strauble, Warren Hutty, Mrs. Jacques Rose, Miss Betsy Von Der Osten, and Mrs. George Wilklow.

Will Need Great Supply

"This has been a big job and it has been well done by all our workers, a job that stretches into the future, for blood is an important part of everyday living and as we look into the days ahead we believe we shall need blood and then more blood.

"My report would not be complete without an expression of my sincere appreciation for the excellent cooperation given me by Doctor Tocco and Miss Blanche Long at the City Laboratory. Always have they been ready to help and to assist with our appointments even when those appointments came after regular working hours. Also, I want to register my thanks to Miss Katherine M. Murphy, R.N., who has always stood at my side when the going was a bit heavy to give me her professional advice and her wise counsel."

Good Taste Today

WHEN BOTH FATHERS ARE CLERGYMEN

A bride-to-be writes: "Mine is an unusual problem and so I come to you for help. My father is a clergyman and of course I had always planned for him to marry me, but it so happens that my fiance's father is also a clergyman and naturally he would like very much to have his father take part too. Is there some way in which both could be included? I want to do the correct thing and not cause hard feelings in any way."

This is a not at all unusual situation, and the usual procedure is for the father of the bride (who is in his own church) to read the beginning of the marriage service and the visiting clergymen (father of the bridegroom) to read the betrothal, and then the bride's father to end with the benediction.

Belated Celebration of Marriage

Dear Mrs. Post: (1) I was recently married abroad and the announcements are being engraved now. However, my husband has remained in Europe and will not be in the states for several months. Should the announcements be sent out now or shall I wait until he arrives in this country before sending them? (2) Also, I wish to have a reception when he arrives. Could I have a white bride's cake at the reception or would that be in bad taste?

Answer: (1) Send them now. There is no reason why they should be delayed until his arrival. (2) There is no reason why you should not have a bride's cake. It has no significance other than a decorative one.

Progressive Dinner

Dear Mrs Post: (1) Our bridge club is having a progressive dinner and the soup course is to be served at my house. Will you please tell me how it should be served and what I should serve with it. (2) Also, I have a white lace cloth and a white linen cloth. Which would be better to use?

Answer: (1) As it is probably a very big dinner, it would be most practical to serve the soup in soup cups rather than plates, and with it crescent rolls would be especially suitable. (2) Personally, I should prefer the linen cloth, although either would be correct.

Drama Group Hears The Story Behind Handel's 'Messiah'

The story of "How Handel Happened to Compose the 'Messiah' " was read by Mrs. Raymond Gross to the drama group of the Women's Club of the Y.W.C.A. when the group met Tuesday afternoon for a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. W. Dean Hays, 110 Fair street. Mrs. Gross was introduced by Mrs. Ralph Harper, president.

The story explained how Handel's greatest oratorio was written in what were probably the darkest hours of the composer's life, when he was literally a broken, and ruined man. All London had turned against him. He was attacked by the press, hounded at the court, and denounced as a foreigner. His operas failed, and his oratorios were ridiculed. Finally the pressure proved too great a strain, his health failed, and he was stricken with paralysis.

A Friend Steps In

It was at this dark hour that a friend sent him the text for a new oratorio, the "Messiah." Overcoming the handicaps of sickness defeat, and despair, Handel began to write the greatest of all oratorios.

With the presentation of the "Messiah" the composer's fortunes changed. Fame followed close on the heels of scorn, and the entire country acclaimed and honored him. When he died he was mourned by all England, and he was paid one of the greatest tributes an Englishman can receive; he was buried in Westminster Abbey.

"Why the Chimes Rang"

For her seond selection Mrs. Gross read the classic old world Christmas story, "Why the Chimes Rang."

A quiz was then conducted based on questions dealing with the birth of the Christ child. Following the quiz presents were exchanged, and refreshments were served. Hostesses were Mrs. Hays, Mrs. Gross, Mrs. Maxwell Taylor, and Mrs. Richard Morse. The refreshment table was arranged with Christmas decorations.

Styles Revive Look of 20's

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

New York — (NEA) — Luxurious evening furs, of interest even to the woman on a budget because they help to set a trend, demonstrate great variety in both cut and length this winter. The woman who can afford it can go to the opera or the theatre in a cape-stole, a cape-jacket, a cape, a short coat with gently-rounded shoulders, or a little bolero.

She may pick her fur from white fox, which is knowing a revival, ermine, Aleutian mink or possibly pink mink (Balmain has it!) or even sable, if her taste runs to sable.

Collars, in themselves a story this year, are large or non-existent. One New York design is a cocoon jacket in Aleutian mink, the new mutation which has dark brown top hair with a blue cast and white under-hair. This is a revival of a 1920 fashion and the collar here naturally is a large cape collar. The jacket wraps, to give a swathed look to the figure, and is cut with rounded, contour lines. This jacket will look equally well over a short or a long evening dress.

Ermine, that regal fur, appears in another New York design—a full, sweeping cape. The cape ends just above the ankle. Its collar, shaped like a calla lily, ties with a heavy rope of pearls and rhinestones which is worn flung back.

Coach House Group Announces Three Membership Types

The Coach House Players have planned three separate types of memberships in the association, it was announced recently. These types will be patrons of the arts, associate members and active members.

It was also announced that persons desiring membership in the theatre group for 1951 may choose their type of membership at this time from any active member. Meanwhile a membership drive will be conducted in January.

Members will be entitled to tickets for three productions annually in addition to a bonus performance at the end of the year. Memberships will be limited, however, it was revealed, as the group hopes to be in their new theatre by spring, where space is more limited than at the high school.

Home Bureau Unit Hears Health Talk

The Kerhonkson unit, Home Bureau heard a health lecture Wednesday evening by Dr. R. G. Holloway when the group met at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Tompkins, with Mrs. Neil Olsen as cohostess. Dr. Holloway also explained the duties of the County Health Nurse.

During the meeting a covered dish supper was served on tables decorated in holiday colors. Gifts were also exchanged.

The Kerhonkson unit will meet again January 10, at the home of Mrs. Lauren Davis. The topic for the meeting will be history and folklore, and new officers will be elected.

Staples Shoe Fund Will Memorialize Attendance Officer

He always saw that they had shoes and rubbers when he was attendance officer, so friends of the late Harry Staples are establishing a fund to help needy schoolchildren as a memorial to the man who checked on absentees for more than 30 years.

Harry L. Edson, assistant superintendent of the Kingston Recreation Department, is treasurer for the group planning to memorialize Staples. They were close friends for years and had much in common when it came to helping needy youngsters.

Those who have joined Edson in the project are Frank B. Ratcliff, principal of School 3; Raymond H. Van Valkenburgh of School 4; Mrs. James Young, school nurse and Mrs. Sophie Miller who has always been interested in the downtown section of the city and its people.

The group feels certain that many professional and business men, who knew Staples, will contribute to the fund. Donors may send checks to Harry L. Edson, treasurer, Harry Staples Shoe Fund, care of the Kingston Recreation Department, 97 Broadway.

Edson said, "We are certain that those who knew Harry Staples and his consideration for the youngsters of the city will send in donations." He added, "No more fitting tribute could be paid to this friend of the kiddies, whose memory will endure in their hearts."

Styles Revive Look of 20's

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

New York — (NEA) — Luxurious evening furs, of interest even to the woman on a budget because they help to set a trend, demonstrate great variety in both cut and length this winter. The woman who can afford it can go to the opera or the theatre in a cape-stole, a cape-jacket, a cape, a short coat with gently-rounded shoulders, or a little bolero.

She may pick her fur from white fox, which is knowing a revival, ermine, Aleutian mink or possibly pink mink (Balmain has it!) or even sable, if her taste runs to sable.

Collars, in themselves a story this year, are large or non-existent. One New York design is a cocoon jacket in Aleutian mink, the new mutation which has dark brown top hair with a blue cast and white under-hair. This is a revival of a 1920 fashion and the collar here naturally is a large cape collar. The jacket wraps, to give a swathed look to the figure, and is cut with rounded, contour lines. This jacket will look equally well over a short or a long evening dress.

Ermine, that regal fur, appears in another New York design—a full, sweeping cape. The cape ends just above the ankle. Its collar, shaped like a calla lily, ties with a heavy rope of pearls and rhinestones which is worn flung back.

Staples Shoe Fund Will Memorialize Attendance Officer

He always saw that they had shoes and rubbers when he was attendance officer, so friends of the late Harry Staples are establishing a fund to help needy schoolchildren as a memorial to the man who checked on absentees for more than 30 years.

Harry L. Edson, assistant superintendent of the Kingston Recreation Department, is treasurer for the group planning to memorialize Staples. They were close friends for years and had much in common when it came to helping needy youngsters.

Those who have joined Edson in the project are Frank B. Ratcliff, principal of School 3; Raymond H. Van Valkenburgh of School 4; Mrs. James Young, school nurse and Mrs. Sophie Miller who has always been interested in the downtown section of the city and its people.

The group feels certain that many professional and business men, who knew Staples, will contribute to the fund. Donors may send checks to Harry L. Edson, treasurer, Harry Staples Shoe Fund, care of the Kingston Recreation Department, 97 Broadway.

Edson said, "We are certain that those who knew Harry Staples and his consideration for the youngsters of the city will send in donations." He added, "No more fitting tribute could be paid to this friend of the kiddies, whose memory will endure in their hearts."

Members will be entitled to tickets for three productions annually in addition to a bonus performance at the end of the year. Memberships will be limited, however, it was revealed, as the group hopes to be in their new theatre by spring, where space is more limited than at the high school.

Robins, Firemen, Violets Score Victories in 'Y' Court League

Wilson, Daley High With 20 Points

The Robins, Esopus Firemen and Violets emerged with victories in the "B" Division of the Y.M.C.A. Basketball League Wednesday night at the Y boards.

All three clubs hit the 50 mark with the Robins nipping Schuler's Inn by 51-43, Esopus Firemen by 53 to 32 over the Accord Chevies while the Violets dumped Hurley by 56 to 36.

Hotaling of Schulers flipped in 15. Grunenwald followed with 13.

Wilson, forward for the Firemen, who shared top scoring honors of the night with Daley of the Violets with 20 points, sparked his club.

Accord, opening fast, jumped to an 18-8 lead at the first period but the attack fizzled in the midway canto as the Firemen moved out in front by 21-19. A third period rush of 24 points "iced" the decision for the Firemen.

Lawrence and Wustrau were high for the losers with 11 and 10 respectively.

With Daley dumping in 20 markers, the Violets hit the double figures in all four periods to down the Hurley five.

Culjak and Burris aided in the Violet cause with 10 points apiece. Hickey was high for Hurley with 13.

Chicago U. Further Away From Return To Grid Rivalry as Hutchins Leaves

Chicago, Dec. 21 (AP)—There appeared little prospect today that intercollegiate football competition will come back to the University of Chicago now that Chancellor Robert M. Hutchins is leaving.

A university spokesman said that no one at the school was giving much thought to the matter.

"There's not much evidence of discontent over our withdrawal from Big Ten football," he added.

Hutchins on Tuesday notified the university he was resigning to accept an associate directorship of the Ford Foundation. He was instrumental in abolishing big time football at the school in 1939, after several de-emphasized, and disastrous, seasons.

The university spokesman said that the board of trustees had concurred with Hutchins in doing away with football and that it would have to reverse its stand to reinstate the game.

He also pointed out that the University of Chicago College takes qualified students who have completed the second year of high school. He added:

"This means that we get students who are younger than those in other colleges, so that * * * we aren't prepared to play big league football any more. * * * And regardless of who comes in to replace Dr. Hutchins—even if it were Frank Leahy himself (Notre Dame football coach)—I don't think he'd care to try football under the circumstances."

All three clubs hit the 50 mark with the Robins nipping Schuler's Inn by 51-43, Esopus Firemen by 53 to 32 over the Accord Chevies while the Violets dumped Hurley by 56 to 36.

Maybanks and J. Linnartz were high for the Robins in their close call with Schulers. Maybanks hit for 14 while Linartz trailed with 11.

Hotaling of Schulers flipped in 15. Grunenwald followed with 13.

Accord, opening fast, jumped to an 18-8 lead at the first period but the attack fizzled in the midway canto as the Firemen moved out in front by 21-19. A third period rush of 24 points "iced" the decision for the Firemen.

Lawrence and Wustrau were high for the losers with 11 and 10 respectively.

With Daley dumping in 20 markers, the Violets hit the double figures in all four periods to down the Hurley five.

Brain Operation Is Performed On West After Kayo by Bassett

Young Negro Boxer In Critical Shape

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Al (Sonny Boy) West, a 21-year-old Negro boxer from Washington, D. C., hovered in "very critical condition" today after a knockout loss to young Percy Bassett of Philadelphia last night at St. Nicholas Arena.

Surgeons performed an emergency brain operation on the stricken lightweight who was carried unconscious from the ring after failing to respond to stimulants.

West was losing but still appeared strong until Bassett tagged him with a straight right to the head after 29 seconds of the seventh round of a scheduled ten. On the cards of all three officials West had won only one round. Referee Harry Ebbets also had one even.

Sonny Boy, moving backward as he was hit, fell flat on his back, his head hitting the ring canvas with a thump. He did not regain consciousness.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello, New York State Athletic Commission physician, administered a stimulant in the ring. After West was carried downstairs to his dressing room in the basement of the ancient arena, Nardiello gave him another injection. Then the ambulance hustled him to St. Clare's Hospital.

Blood Clot Found

Shortly after arrival at the hospital, West was rushed to the operating room. Nardiello reported "neurological findings indicate a blood clot." Nardiello and Dr. James Daniels, a brain specialist, performed the operation.

Only 895 fans were present but many thousands saw the bout which was carried on a television and radio network.

It was in this same club that Lavern Roach of Plainview, Tex., was fatally injured when knocked out by Georgie Small of Brooklyn last Feb. 23.

Bassett, 22, has won 47 of 49 pro fights and his last 19 in a row.

According to Ring magazine, there have been eight boxing deaths in 1950 throughout the world, amateur and pro. Only two were in the United States. The first was Roach and the second occurred Dec. 7 at Merced, Calif., when Featherweight Samuel (Johnny) Lopez of Richmond, Calif., died after being knocked out by Joe Madrid of Stockton, Calif. Last year there were 18 ring deaths.

Gridders Visit Kids

San Francisco, Dec. 21 (AP)—The Shrine East and West football teams took time out from scrimmage for their Dec. 30 battle to visit the kids who will benefit from their gridiron efforts. Both squads went to the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children yesterday. They spent several hours meeting the handicapped youngsters whose medical care is provided by the gate receipts from the game—some $100,000 net. Each player was assigned a "niece or nephew" and both the children and their new "uncles" spent a happy morning getting acquainted.

Cravath Changes Tune

Monterey, Calif., Dec. 21 (AP)—"If I'm ever lucky enough to land another coaching job, I'm going to win football games and let the other fellow build character." So says Jeff Cravath. He quit yesterday as University of Southern California's head football coach—victim after nine years of a powerful alumni attack on USC's 1950 record of five games lost, two tied and two won. Cravath salved an estimated $30,000 plus—his salary for the next two years which wealthy alumni agreed to pay if he'd resign.

Seek Games

Hold Brisk Workout

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 21 (AP)—Michigan's Big Ten football champions headed briskly into their second day of practice under California sun today and some of the Wolverines privately hoped it wouldn't be any more strenuous than their first day. They loosened up, and then scrimmaged. The squad got off the train at Pasadena yesterday morning and almost before the echoes of a colorful welcoming committee had died away the lads were already down to the business of drilling for their New Year's day game with California.

To Complete Cast Today

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 21 (AP)—The Gator Bowl cast will be complete with the arrival of Washington and Lee's football team today. Wyoming came in yesterday and Coach Bowden Wyatt had the squad on the practice field in jig time. They ran a lot to get rid of the kinks picked up in two days of train travel.

When Friendship speaks the Magic Words

"Merry Christmas!"

"Merry Christmas!" With what deep joy those welcome words fill the heart, as, from coast to coast, friend greets friend with friendship's happiest salute!

Surely only the finest, the most desired of gifts, is fine enough to accompany these fine words. And, for years, those who welcome the luxury of the gift of fine whiskey have particularly welcomed the gift of Seagram's finest American whiskey...7 Crown.

"Only the finest is fine enough for Christmas ...give Seagram's and be Sure of the finest"

Brain Operation Is Performed On West After Kayo by Bassett

Young Negro Boxer In Critical Shape

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Al (Sonny Boy) West, a 21-year-old Negro boxer from Washington, D. C., hovered in "very critical condition" today after a knockout loss to young Percy Bassett of Philadelphia last night at St. Nicholas Arena.

Surgeons performed an emergency brain operation on the stricken lightweight who was carried unconscious from the ring after failing to respond to stimulants.

West was losing but still appeared strong until Bassett tagged him with a straight right to the head after 29 seconds of the seventh round of a scheduled ten. On the cards of all three officials West had won only one round. Referee Harry Ebbets also had one even.

Sonny Boy, moving backward as he was hit, fell flat on his back, his head hitting the ring canvas with a thump. He did not regain consciousness.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello, New York State Athletic Commission physician, administered a stimulant in the ring. After West was carried downstairs to his dressing room in the basement of the ancient arena, Nardiello gave him another injection. Then the ambulance hustled him to St. Clare's Hospital.

Blood Clot Found

Shortly after arrival at the hospital, West was rushed to the operating room. Nardiello reported "neurological findings indicate a blood clot." Nardiello and Dr. James Daniels, a brain specialist, performed the operation.

Only 895 fans were present but many thousands saw the bout which was carried on a television and radio network.

It was in this same club that Lavern Roach of Plainview, Tex., was fatally injured when knocked out by Georgie Small of Brooklyn last Feb. 23.

Bassett, 22, has won 47 of 49 pro fights and his last 19 in a row.

According to Ring magazine, there have been eight boxing deaths in 1950 throughout the world, amateur and pro. Only two were in the United States. The first was Roach and the second occurred Dec. 7 at Merced, Calif., when Featherweight Samuel (Johnny) Lopez of Richmond, Calif., died after being knocked out by Joe Madrid of Stockton, Calif. Last year there were 18 ring deaths.

Gridders Visit Kids

San Francisco, Dec. 21 (AP)—The Shrine East and West football teams took time out from scrimmage for their Dec. 30 battle to visit the kids who will benefit from their gridiron efforts. Both squads went to the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children yesterday. They spent several hours meeting the handicapped youngsters whose medical care is provided by the gate receipts from the game—some $100,000 net. Each player was assigned a "niece or nephew" and both the children and their new "uncles" spent a happy morning getting acquainted.

Cravath Changes Tune

Monterey, Calif., Dec. 21 (AP)—"If I'm ever lucky enough to land another coaching job, I'm going to win football games and let the other fellow build character." So says Jeff Cravath. He quit yesterday as University of Southern California's head football coach—victim after nine years of a powerful alumni attack on USC's 1950 record of five games lost, two tied and two won. Cravath salved an estimated $30,000 plus—his salary for the next two years which wealthy alumni agreed to pay if he'd resign.

Seek Games

Hold Brisk Workout

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 21 (AP)—Michigan's Big Ten football champions headed briskly into their second day of practice under California sun today and some of the Wolverines privately hoped it wouldn't be any more strenuous than their first day. They loosened up, and then scrimmaged. The squad got off the train at Pasadena yesterday morning and almost before the echoes of a colorful welcoming committee had died away the lads were already down to the business of drilling for their New Year's day game with California.

To Complete Cast Today

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 21 (AP)—The Gator Bowl cast will be complete with the arrival of Washington and Lee's football team today. Wyoming came in yesterday and Coach Bowden Wyatt had the squad on the practice field in jig time. They ran a lot to get rid of the kinks picked up in two days of train travel.

When Friendship speaks the Magic Words

"Merry Christmas!"

"Merry Christmas!" With what deep joy those welcome words fill the heart, as, from coast to coast, friend greets friend with friendship's happiest salute!

Surely only the finest, the most desired of gifts, is fine enough to accompany these fine words. And, for years, those who welcome the luxury of the gift of fine whiskey have particularly welcomed the gift of Seagram's finest American whiskey... 7 Crown.

"Only the finest is fine enough for Christmas ...give Seagram's and be Sure of the finest"

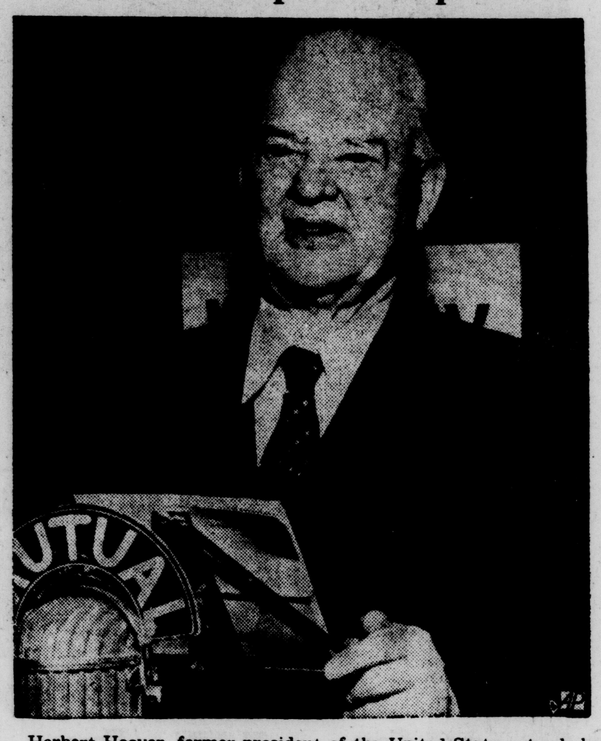
Hoover Prepares to Speak



Herbert Hoover, former president of the United States, stands before a microphone just before he began radio and television speech from New York. In his address, he called on America to make the Atlantic and Pacific oceans its frontiers — not continental Europe or Asia — and to "arm our air and naval forces to the teeth" to defend them.

Hoover Suggests

year-old former chief executive told his audiences across the nation.

"We have little need for large armies unless we are going to Europe or China," he said. Land war with the Communist masses in Asia or western Europe "would be the graveyard of millions of American boys and would end in the exhaustion of this Gibraltar of western civilization."

Mr. Hoover said western European nations should arm themselves with combat divisions of "huge numbers" before the United States lands "another man or another dollar on their shores."

His demand for a new foreign arms policy came one day after President Truman named Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as supreme commander of western European forces and said additional U. S. troops would be sent there as soon as possible.

Mr. Hoover said his suggested foreign policy would make it possible for this country to carry on indefinitely, even if the Communists attacked its defense rim. Meanwhile, he added, Americans could hope that other non-Communist peoples would rise in their own defense, and that communism would break down of its own weaknesses.

Adding to his prepared text, Mr. Hoover said "I devoutly hope a maximum of cooperation can be established between the British commonwealth and ourselves."

He urged that the United States free Japan and help her rearm; stiffen the defenses of Formosa and the Philippines; reduce non-military expenses, balance the budget and roll back inflation; aid other nations that show "spirit and strength" in defending themselves against communism; and engage in no appeasement anywhere — "no more Tehrans and Yaltas."

Mr. Hoover proposed that the United Nations take these actions against Communist China; declare it an aggressor, refuse it membership, demand that U.N. members cease supplying it with militarily useful goods; and adopt a resolution condemning the "infamous lies" about the United States.

The ex-president criticized the British for "flirting with appeasement of Communist China."

Will Free Composer

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 21 (AP)—Frank M. Grandstaff, who composed the 70-page "Big Spring Cantata" in his prison cell, soon will be a free man. It is believed he will be the first ever pardoned as an habitual criminal in Tennessee. Before an announcement by Gov. Gordon Browning last night, the 49-year-old convict-composer faced the prospect of spending the rest of his life behind prison walls. Browning said, "I am giving him a pardon to let him get out of the state. All the matters for which he was convicted were very small offenses and I am not satisfied to leave him there." The governor said he would sign the pardon papers today or tomorrow. He added he understood Grandstaff will go to Indiana or Texas. The cantata was the key that unlocked prison doors for Grandstaff's week of freedom in Big Spring, Tex., in October, 1949. It was inspired by a book written by druggist Earl Philips. Grandstaff was guest of honor at the Big Spring centennial.

Received by King

London, Dec. 21 (AP)—Walter S. Gifford took the traditional ride in an open coach to Buckingham Palace today to present his credentials as the new U. S. ambassador to the Court of St. James. He was received by King VI at noon.

SPORTS QUEEN—Brenda Parkinson, chosen "Queen of Sports" at Miami Beach, Fla., will visit North to invite notables to a new athletic club.

His Dog Plays Part In Rescue of Boy

Prestonsburg, Ky., Dec. 21 (AP)—A trip to the woods in search of mistletoe for the holidays might have ended in death for 14-year-old Ollie Lafferty, Jr., had it not been for the lad's resourcefulness and his dog's intelligence.

Ollie told about it last night from his bed in a hospital where he is recovering from a broken leg.

Ollie and his mixed collie and shepherd, "Rock," set out from their home at nearby Sloan. Three miles deep in the hills, Ollie spotted the mistletoe in the top of a tree. He chopped down the tree. But as it fell it bounced, pinning his left leg to the earth.

The youth removed dirt with the ax to get to the injury. He tore strips from his shirt and fashioned a tourniquet to stop the flow of blood and to bind the wound. Then he chopped limbs from the tree for a splint. Next he proceeded to cut his way to freedom with the ax.

Faced with the task of crawling home over three miles of rugged terrain in bitterly cold weather, he decided to use Rock as a messenger. He scribbled a note on part of a small cardboard box, tied it to the dog's collar and, after much persuasion, Rock got the idea and streaked for home. Ollie began the tortuous crawl.

Five hours later he was found. Rock had delivered the message.

Bard's Students Begin Holiday and Winter Field Work

Annandale-on-Hudson, Dec. 20—Bard College students left today, for the Christmas holidays and their Winter Field Period jobs, which will start on January 8. Classes will be resumed February 19.

Each student has a special assignment to complete during the six weeks, either a job or a research project related to his major field of study.

The winter field period is an essential part of the Bard educational program. It is planned to give students an opportunity to gain practical experiences that will supplement their studies.

State Seizes Plant

Newark, N. J., Dec. 21 (AP)—New Jersey seized the strike-bound Public Service Electric and Gas Co. early today and ordered striking gas production workers who walked off their jobs in three key plants last night to return to work. The seizure order was issued by Walter T. Margetts, Jr., named administrator of the struck gas plants in Harrison, Jersey City and Paterson. Margetts warned consumers the situation was "serious" and asked them to "conserve on the use of gas." Governor Driscoll ordered the seizure late last night under the state law which bans strikes in public utilities after a walkout of some 900 employes at the plants which serve about 700,000 north Jersey consumers in Hudson, Bergen, Essex and Passaic counties. A company spokesman said there had been no back-to-work movement as of 6:30 a. m. this morning.

Pay of Police Is Viewed as One Of Graft Sources

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Brooklyn's rackets-probing grand jury begun investigation to determine whether living standards of New York policemen contribute to police graft.

The switch in objectives was called for by Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz in an open court hearing yesterday. The court supported his position with the testimony of three policemen, one of whom said he had gone in debt $1,200 to support his family in 16 months on the force.

A navy veteran, 24-year-old Policeman Philip Grossberg walks a beat in Judge Leibowitz's neighborhood. He is married and has a two-year-old child.

Described by the judge as an "average cop," Grossberg told the grand jury in open court that his yearly pay was $3,150, but that his takehome pay was $39.45 a week. To meet his expenses, he said, he had to spend $48 a week. The $1,200 debt, he said, was money he had borrowed from relatives and banks.

Changed in 16 Months

"I've changed in the 16 months I've been on the force," Grossberg said. "I had a good record—not for anything big like stopping a holdup or anything. But I've changed my thoughts about the kind of cop I want to be. Why risk my neck to do something out of the ordinary when I can't even take care of my family."

Judge Leibowitz told the grand jury things like Grossberg related "make the men restive and easy prey for those who would exploit them."

He then told the jurors that it was an "integral part of your duty in exposing malfeasance in the police department to take such steps as you can to remove the pressing temptations that beset the policeman who in his heart and soul is determined to be an honest, faithful public servant."

Pieck Returns

Berlin, Dec. 21 (AP)—East Germany's Communist president, Wilhelm Pieck, returned to his Berlin headquarters today after a month's vacation in the Soviet Union. Pieck spent the past three days paying a state visit to the Polish government in Warsaw. Pieck told a delegation which greeted him at the East Berlin main railroad station that the Warsaw visit showed a strong Polish-German friendship has grown since the war.

A small rotary-type snow plow has recently appeared for use with a garden tractor.

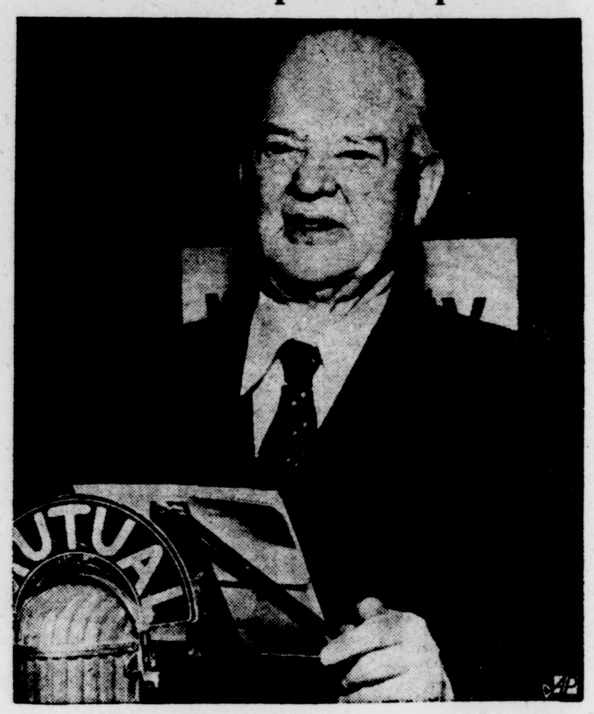
Hoover Prepares to Speak



Herbert Hoover, former president of the United States, stands before a microphone just before he began radio and television speech from New York. In his address, he called on America to make the Atlantic and Pacific oceans its frontiers — not continental Europe or Asia — and to "arm our air and naval forces to the teeth" to defend them.

year-old former chief executive told his audiences across the nation.

"We have little need for large armies unless we are going to Europe or China," he said. Land war with the Communist masses in Asia or western Europe "would be the graveyard of millions of American boys and would end in the exhaustion of this Gibraltar of western civilization."

Mr. Hoover said western European nations should arm themselves with combat divisions of "huge numbers" before the United States lands "another man or another dollar on their shores."

His demand for a new foreign arms policy came one day after President Truman named Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as supreme commander of western European forces and said additional U. S. troops would be sent there as soon as possible.

Mr. Hoover said his suggested foreign policy would make it possible for this country to carry on indefinitely, even if the Communists attacked its defense rim. Meanwhile, he added, Americans could hope that other non-Communist peoples would rise in their own defense, and that communism would break down of its own weaknesses.

Adding to his prepared text, Mr. Hoover said "I devoutly hope a maximum of cooperation can be established between the British commonwealth and ourselves."

He urged that the United States free Japan and help her rearm; stiffen the defenses of Formosa and the Philippines; reduce non-military expenses, balance the budget and roll back inflation; aid other nations that show "spirit and strength" in defending themselves against communism; and engage in no appeasement anywhere — "no more Tehrans and Yaltas."

Mr. Hoover proposed that the United Nations take these actions against Communist China; declare it an aggressor, refuse it membership, demand that U.N. members cease supplying it with militarily useful goods; and adopt a resolution condemning the "infamous lies" about the United States.

The ex-president criticized the British for "flirting with appeasement of Communist China."

Will Free Composer

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 21 (AP)—Frank M. Grandstaff, who composed the 70-page "Big Spring Cantata" in his prison cell, soon will be a free man. It is believed he will be the first ever pardoned as an habitual criminal in Tennessee. Before an announcement by Gov. Gordon Browning last night, the 49-year-old convict-composer faced the prospect of spending the rest of his life behind prison walls. Browning said, "I am giving him a pardon to let him get out of the state. All the matters for which he was convicted were very small offenses and I am not satisfied to leave him there." The governor said he would sign the pardon papers today or tomorrow. He added he understood Grandstaff will go to Indiana or Texas. The cantata was the key that unlocked prison doors for Grandstaff's week of freedom in Big Spring, Tex., in October, 1949. It was inspired by a book written by druggist Earl Philips. Grandstaff was guest of honor at the Big Spring centennial.

London, Dec. 21 (AP)—Walter S. Gifford took the traditional ride in an open coach to Buckingham Palace today to present his credentials as the new U. S. ambassador to the Court of St. James. He was received by King VI at noon.

SPORTS QUEEN—Brenda Parkinson, chosen "Queen of Sports" at Miami Beach, Fla., will visit North to invite notables to a new athletic club.

His Dog Plays Part In Rescue of Boy

Prestonsburg, Ky., Dec. 21 (AP)—A trip to the woods in search of mistletoe for the holidays might have ended in death for 14-year-old Ollie Lafferty, Jr., had it not been for the lad's resourcefulness and his dog's intelligence.

Ollie told about it last night from his bed in a hospital where he is recovering from a broken leg.

Ollie and his mixed collie and shepherd, "Rock," set out from their home at nearby Sloan. Three miles deep in the hills, Ollie spotted the mistletoe in the top of a tree. He chopped down the tree. But as it fell it bounced, pinning his left leg to the earth.

The youth removed dirt with the ax to get to the injury. He tore strips from his shirt and fashioned a tourniquet to stop the flow of blood and to bind the wound. Then he chopped limbs from the tree for a splint. Next he proceeded to cut his way to freedom with the ax.

Faced with the task of crawling home over three miles of rugged terrain in bitterly cold weather, he decided to use Rock as a messenger. He scribbled a note on part of a small cardboard box, tied it to the dog's collar and, after much persuasion, Rock got the idea and streaked for home. Ollie began the tortuous crawl.

Five hours later he was found. Rock had delivered the message.

Bard's Students Begin Holiday and Winter Field Work

Annandale-on-Hudson, Dec. 20—Bard College students left today, for the Christmas holidays and their Winter Field Period jobs, which will start on January 8. Classes will be resumed February 19.

Each student has a special assignment to complete during the six weeks, either a job or a research project related to his major field of study.

The winter field period is an essential part of the Bard educational program. It is planned to give students an opportunity to gain practical experiences that will supplement their studies.

State Seizes Plant

Newark, N. J., Dec. 21 (AP)—New Jersey seized the strike-bound Public Service Electric and Gas Co. early today and ordered striking gas production workers who walked off their jobs in three key plants last night to return to work. The seizure order was issued by Walter T. Margetts, Jr., named administrator of the struck gas plants in Harrison, Jersey City and Paterson. Margetts warned consumers the situation was "serious" and asked them to "conserve on the use of gas." Governor Driscoll ordered the seizure late last night under the state law which bans strikes in public utilities after a walkout of some 900 employes at the plants which serve about 700,000 north Jersey consumers in Hudson, Bergen, Essex and Passaic counties. A company spokesman said there had been no back-to-work movement as of 6:30 a. m. this morning.

Pay of Police Is Viewed as One Of Graft Sources

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Brooklyn's rackets-probing grand jury begun investigation to determine whether living standards of New York policemen contribute to police graft.

The switch in objectives was called for by Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz in an open court hearing yesterday. The court supported his position with the testimony of three policemen, one of whom said he had gone in debt $1,200 to support his family in 16 months on the force.

A navy veteran, 24-year-old Policeman Philip Grossberg walks a beat in Judge Leibowitz's neighborhood. He is married and has a two-year-old child.

Described by the judge as an "average cop," Grossberg told the grand jury in open court that his yearly pay was $3,150, but that his takehome pay was $39.45 a week. To meet his expenses, he said, he had to spend $48 a week. The $1,200 debt, he said, was money he had borrowed from relatives and banks.

Changed in 16 Months

"I've changed in the 16 months I've been on the force," Grossberg said. "I had a good record—not for anything big like stopping a holdup or anything. But I've changed my thoughts about the kind of cop I want to be. Why risk my neck to do something out of the ordinary when I can't even take care of my family."

Judge Leibowitz told the grand jury things like Grossberg related "make the men restive and easy prey for those who would exploit them."

He then told the jurors that it was an "integral part of your duty in exposing malfeasance in the police department to take such steps as you can to remove the pressing temptations that beset the policeman who in his heart and soul is determined to be an honest, faithful public servant."

Pieck Returns

Berlin, Dec. 21 (AP)—East Germany's Communist president, Wilhelm Pieck, returned to his Berlin headquarters today after a month's vacation in the Soviet Union. Pieck spent the past three days paying a state visit to the Polish government in Warsaw. Pieck told a delegation which greeted him at the East Berlin main railroad station that the Warsaw visit showed a strong Polish-German friendship has grown since the war.

A small rotary-type snow plow has recently appeared for use with a garden tractor.

Moscow Sounds Blare for Stalin; Gets Barbed Wire

(By The Associated Press)

Today is Joseph Stalin's birthday—he's 71—and while his controlled press at home once again hailed him in extravagant prose, Communists in the ring of states around Russia pulled out all the stops attempting to outdo each other in praising him.

In Moscow, East Berlin, Prague, Sofia, Bucharest, Budapest and Warsaw, the Communist press chorused praise of the man in the Kremlin in phrases like these:

"Leader of the world peace camp."

"Defender of the worker."

"Great genius Stalin."

Leningrad's City Soviet announced a decision to rename International Prospect and its continuation, the Moscow highway. From now on, it's J. V. Stalin Prospect.

Albania renamed the city of Kuchevo. The address now is Stalin, Albania.

Czechoslovakia's army newspaper, Obrana Lidu, dubbed its top editorial "Generalissimo Peace."

Steel Oven Opens

In the east zone of Germany, the Brandenburg Steel Works opened a new oven in honor of Stalin's birthday, announcing it would "produce steel for peace."

Express train service between Prague and Berlin was begun under banners reading: "Greetings to the great Stalin."

Other worldly matters in the press of the Communist states were pushed into the background—even the denunciations of the west. The Soviet army newspaper in Berlin, Taeglische Rundschau, published a sharp editorial on the results of the Brussels conference, but it was relegated to an obscure position.

The celebrating among Communists this year didn't approach that of last year—but last year was a round-number milestone which brought train loads, plane loads and cargoes of gifts for the man in the Kremlin.

Gift From Berlin

Stalin had one gift from western Berlin to mull over. An organization called "The Fighting Group Against Inhumanity" wrote that they wanted to remind him of the German prisoners of war still in the Soviet Union.

They sent him a wreath made of barbed wire.

Markets to Be Closed

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Financial and commodity exchanges throughout the United States will be closed Saturday, Dec. 23 and Christmas Day, Dec. 25. Various livestock reports will be issued as usual on Saturday, Dec. 23. Several New York commodity markets will close at noon, Eastern Standard Time, on Friday, Dec. 22, for their Christmas celebrations.

Library Closes Early

The Kingston Library will close at 6 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 23, instead of the usual hour, it was announced today. The library also will be closed all day Christmas, Dec. 25.

Cold Reception Given Vets' Defense Plan

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 21 (AP)—A proposal to establish a "Minute Man" Civil Defense Corps composed of veterans, received a cold reception today in Pennsylvania.

Col. Alton C. Miller, state civil defense director, said that even though the proposal is "well intentioned" similar plans have been used in the past "to overthrow governments."

The "Minute Man" home defense plan was proposed by a Greenville, O., Veterans of Foreign Wars post.

Under the plan, any veteran joining a "Minute Man" Corps could be called to duty only for specific purposes and would not be available for strike policing duty, or similar civilian guard jobs.

Miller said that while the framers of the plan "are to be recommended for their interest in providing home defense means, the same idea has been used by Franco in Spain and Hitler in Germany to gain control of the people."

"The question is," he said, "how would you screen all the minute men members to determine if they meet loyalty requirements?"

"That isn't what we need. I think we need more firemen, groups to clean streets in event of air attacks and first aid squads."

Miller added that a "Minute Man" plan might be a good idea if it could be turned into something similar to an auxiliary police force plan.

All He Wants Is Train

Altoona, Pa., Dec. 21 (AP)—Tommy Ebbert, 11, who lost six of his nearest kinfolk in a fire five weeks ago, says all he wants for Christmas is "a train." Now he tells folks who visit him in his room at Mercy Hospital, where he is recovering from serious burns: "I never knew I had so many friends." Since word of Tommy's plight became public, mail pours into his hospital room by the sackful. Packages with "Do Not Open Until Christmas" seals come from as far west as Missouri and Minnesota, as far south as Florida.

Many ancient towns on the east coast of England have vanished under battering seas.

(By The Associated Press)

Today is Joseph Stalin's birthday—he's 71—and while his controlled press at home once again hailed him in extravagant prose, Communists in the ring of states around Russia pulled out all the stops attempting to outdo each other in praising him.

In Moscow, East Berlin, Prague, Sofia, Bucharest, Budapest and Warsaw, the Communist press chorused praise of the man in the Kremlin in phrases like these:

"Greatest sciestist of our time."
"Leader of the world peace camp."
"Defender of the worker."
"Great genius Stalin."

Leningrad's City Soviet announced a decision to rename International Prospect and its continuation, the Moscow highway. From now on, it's J. V. Stalin Prospect.

Albania renamed the city of Kuchevo. The address now is Stalin, Albania.

Czechoslovakia's army newspaper, Obrana Lidu, dubbed its top editorial "Generalissimo Peace."

Steel Oven Opens

In the east zone of Germany, the Brandenburg Steel Works opened a new oven in honor of Stalin's birthday, announcing it would "produce steel for peace."

Express train service between Prague and Berlin was begun under banners reading: "Greetings to the great Stalin."
